WEISS SWORN AS JUDGE

Dr. Farid Zeineddine

James S. Moose, Jr.

Dr. Yassin Zakaria

'RE-EXCHANGE' OF DIPLOMATS—Settling of diplomatic dust which exploded between the U. S. and Syria finds Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeineddine and Syria's second secretary, Yassin Zakaria, expelled in retaliation for Syria's expulsion of three U. S. diplomats. The U. S. ambassador to Syria, James S. Moose, Jr., is in Washington and there is no schedule for him to return to Damascus. Syria expelled the three U. S. diplomats for allegedly taking part in a "plot" to unseat President Shukri Al-Kuwatly.

Syria Forces Down American Aircraft

LONDON (UP) — Cairo radio reported today that Syrian planes forced an American plane to land in Damascus Thursday "for hovering" over Syrian territory without obtaining permission."

In Washington, the State Department had no official reports early today on the reported Syrian action.

"A squadron of Syrian planes forced the American plane to land when it ignored the warning while flying over Syrian territory," the Cairo broadcast said.

"The American plane was circling over Damascus. Competent Syrian authorities searched the four members of the American plane and collected the (landing) fees for the plane before it was allowed to resume its flight."

The type of aircraft was not identified and no further details were given.

The listing of four crew members, however, indicated a US military type plane was involved. No mention was made of passengers in the Cairo broadcast.

Relations Worsen

The incident, if confirmed, would indicate a further worsening of relations between the Syrian government and the United States.

The Damascus government already has expelled three American diplomats on charges of plotting to overthrow the regime there.

In retaliation, the U S. government declared the Syrian ambassador in Washington and a junior Syrian diplomat no longer welcome.

Washigton also announced that the U.S. ambassador to Syria, now in the United States, would not return to his post in Damascus

Says 'Real' Competing In Steel

WASHINGTON (UP)—The vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. said today that the similarity in prices charged by various steel manufacturers for their products is "real evidence" of the high degree of competition in the steel industry.

The official, Richard F. Sentner, said there is "no place in our commercial planning or policy for auction-type pricing of our steel products."

Sentner made his statements in testimony prepared for the Senate anti-trust subcommittee which is investigating the recent increase in steel prices. He said that his firm has a one-price policy of charging all its customers—big or little—the same for steel products.

He said U.S. Steel's customers have to plan their steel needs over a long period and they "simply will not pay more to one supplier than to another."

Face Competition

"Each of our individual customers faces competition in his own market," Sentner said. "If we were to charge one customer more for his steel than we charged a competitor of his, we would be impairing his ability to compete.

He said that if U.S. Steel sold its products when they were in short supply at higher prices this might yield "a handsome quick profit." But he said this would be a "short-sighted policy that would surely lead to serious discrimination among our customers."

Teamsters Union Has Not 'Cleansed Itself', Claims Meany

CHICAGO (UP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany charged Thursday that the Teamsters Union had failed to cleanse itself of corrupt practices cited by the parent federation.

Meany told a news conference at the close of the federation's executive council meeting that the Teamsters "have done nothing to make their linen any cleaner" since President Dave Beck was ousted from the council three months ago.

Beck was dropped from the council after it was disclosed he had borrowed $400,000 from the union treasury without paying interest. Subsequent scandals brought several other Teamster officials into disrepute. One led to the arrest of Vice President James R. Hoffa on a bribery charge: Hoffa was acquitted, however.

The executive council is expected to formulate a directive to the Teamsters during a meeting in New York Sept. 24. The AFL-CIO could move to expel the Teamsters, the nation's largest union, if it failed to heed council clean-up orders.

Many Postponements

After numerous postponements the Teamsters will have an opportunity Sept. 5 to answer charges of corrupt domination before the federation's ethical practices committee in Washington.

The Teamsters convention is scheduled to begin Sept. 30 in Miami Beach

Informed sources said that Midwest Teamsters boss Hoffa is now believed to be unacceptable to the AFL-CIO leadership as successor to Beck as president of the 1,500,000-member union. The Senate Labor Rackets Committee recently showed a link between Hoffa and racketeer Johnny Dio.

Senate Probers Link Hoffa to Longshoremen

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee looked today for the hand of James R. Hoffa in 1955 maneuvering to ally the Teamsters with the racket-ridden Longshoremen's Union.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee also would shed more light on Hoffa's role in the chartering of "phony" Teamster locals about that time. The committee has said those charters were a keystone in an attempt by Hoffa, Teamsters Union vice president, to seize control of all New York City's Teamsters.

The committee has charged that in his bid for the waterfront alliance and his grab for power over New York Teamsters, the so-called "crown prince" of Teamsters was seeking a stranglehold on the transportation lifeline of the nation's biggest city.

Recalled for more testimony was Martin T. Lacey, who finally won the presidency of the New York Teamsters Joint Council when the 1956 election wound up in the courts. Lacey said Thursday the "phony" locals were chartered without his prior knowledge.

DENIES 'SLAVERY' — Marshall Miller, ousted New York legislature labor consultant, denies before the Senate labor rackets hearing in Washington that he conspired with employes and union chiefs to keep Puerto Ricans in "slavery" at substandard wages in New York. He also denied attempting to extort money from Michigan furniture manufacturers as the price of labor peace.

Takes Oath in Brief Ceremony In Courthouse

Westmoreland County had a new common pleas judge today—David H. Weiss, Monessen attorney and long-time Democratic political leader.

Weiss took the oath in a brief ceremony in the courthouse at Greensburg this morning before a large audience of jurists, lawyers, friends and politicians.

Judge Weiss was appointed to the bench by Gov. George Leader to serve until next January in place of the deceased Judge George H. McWherter. He is also a Democratic candidate for a full 10-year term in the November election.

The ceremony in the courtroom of President Judge Richard D. Laird required only seven minutes.

Earl S. Keim, an assistant district attorney and the Democratic nominee for district attorney, read the commission from Governor Leader.

The oath was administered by Judge John M. O'Connell of common pleas court.

Judge Weiss' daughter, Y. Rochelle, a Monessen High School senior, helped her father into the black judicial robe.

Ceremony Over

The new jurist then turned and kissed Rochelle and Mrs. Weiss in turn, and the ceremony was over.

There were no speeches or comments. Judge Laird announced that spectators who wished to congratulate Judge Weiss could form a line before the bench, and many did so.

Judges present for the ceremony besides Laird and O'Connell included Eustace Bane, of Fayette County; David Weiner, of Washington County; Samuel Weiss, Homer Brown and Anne X. Alpern, all of Allegheny County, and Judge Rabe F. Marsh of U. S. District Court at Pittsburgh, a former Westmoreland County attorney.

The courtroom was jammed by about 150 spectators, who included virtually all the courthouse officials and Democratic party leaders from throughout the county.

Friends on Hand

Several carloads of Monessen friends of Judge Weiss also were present.

One of his Republican opponents, Robert Rial, a Greensburg attorney, was in the audience.

There were numerous baskets and arrangements of flowers from friends and well - wishers. Conspicuous among the floral pieces was one in the form and colors of the American flag, presented by members of the Monessen City Council. The attached card read: "Congratulations, Dave".

Judge Weiss, until his appointment to the bench, was solicitor for the City as well as for the Monessen school district.

A luncheon in honor of the new judge was being held at the Baldoc Hills Country Club near Irwin this afternoon. It was report-

Weiss Supporters Are Already Busy

Campaign cards urging the election of Judge David H. Weiss were circulated in Greensburg today, less than an hour after the Monessen attorney was sworn in as a Westmoreland County common pleas judge.

Weiss will seek a full ten-year term in this November's general election.

Relax Ban on Court Pictures For Affair Today

Westmoreland County court's famous rule against taking pictures in the courthouse was relaxed today.

Judge Richard D. Laird, one of the authors of the controversial rule, admitted photographers to his courtroom to make pictures following the swearing-in of Judge David H. Weiss.

The court was in formal session during the actual oath-taking, and no pictures were made then. A commercial photographer, Gus Arcuri, of Monessen, was not permitted to bring his camera into the courtroom at that time. No newspaper photographers were present.

But when the ceremony was over, Judge Laird adjourned the court and permitted Arcuri to make pictures of Judge Weiss and others involved in the proceedings.

The rule of court, which has been the subject of a three-year litigation between the county judges and newspapers, states that pictures cannot be taken "during sessions of this court or recesses between sessions, in any of the court rooms or at any place in the court house within 40 feet of the entrance to any court room."

No prior announcement was made by Judge Laird that he would permit photographs following today's ceremony.

Syria Charges U.S. Officials Part of 'Plot'

DAMASCUS (UP) — Syria charged today that two of the three U. S. Embassy officials evicted from this country this week tried to enlist the support of a Syrian officer for an anti-Communist coup d'etat.

The official radio broadcast a statement by Capt. Abdulla S. Atiyah filing in details of the Syrian charge that Embassy Secretary Howard Stone and Vice Consul Francis Getton were "anti-government plotters."

At the same time, Radio Moscow charged that the alleged "plot" proves that the United States is pursuing "the typical imperialist policy of the cloak and dagger" in the Middle East.

Syria ordered Stone, Getton and Lt. Col. Robert W. Malloy, the U.S military attache here, to get out of the country on the ground that they had been conspiring against the government of Premier Sabri El Assali.

In retaliation, the United States announced that Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeineddine and mbassy Secretary Yassin Zakaria are no longer welcome in that country. The Washington announcement said also that U S. ambassador to Syria James S. Moose Jr. will not return to Damascus.

Nearby Scientists Work on Atomic Naval Vessel

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Testimony before the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy has revealed that scientists at Betis Field in nearby West Mifflin are designing an atomic engine for a non-stop naval vessel.

According to Adm. H. G. Rickover, director of atomic engine construction for the Navy, the present goal is to design a reactor that will run a ship for an entire war.

The Atomic Energy Commission's Bettis field is the site where Westinghouse Electric Corp. scientists designed the atomic engine for the Nautilus, world's first atomic powered submarine. Westinghouse scientists also are designing the new-type atomic engine to produce a virtually non stop naval vessel.

Rickover testified concerning the AEC and Navy projects before the joint congressional committee which recently released details on the hearings.

B. Vernon Cadets Win Parade Award

Belle Vernon's Blue and Gold Cadets, crack valley drum and bugle corps, copped third place honors in the closing parade of the annual Western Pennsylvania Firemen's convention at Albion yesterday.

The Belle Vernon organization participated under the Monessen banner as the musical lead group for the marching Monessen firemen.

A cash award of $35 went to the Cadets for their impressive showing.

Top honors in the senior drum and bugle corps competition were won by Tarentum; second place by Vandergrift. The Vandergrift unit also won two first place awards for the best appearing pumper, 1,000 gallons or more, tying with Ingomar, and for the best appearing uniformed company with music.

General Motors Denies Excessive Profits Charge

WASHINGTON (UP) — General Motors Corp denied to Congress today that it reaped an excessive profit on a $343,959,500 Air Force contract to build 599 F84F jet fighter planes.

Company Vice President John F. Gordon told a House Armed Services subcommittee the profit on the contract was 11.3 per cent before taxes and 5.4 per cent after taxes.

Gordon declared this was "fair and reasonable" and "substantially below" what the giant corporation makes on its non-government business.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell has told the subcommittee an audit showed GM got a profit $17,459,200 "in excess of that contemplated" when Air Force and GM officials negotiated prices. Gordon said this was a "misintrepretation."

Gordon said no specific profit was "contemplated" by GM when it executed the contract or later when prices were redetermined It was a fixed price contract vith provision for adjusting prices after the 71st plane was completed at the Kansas City, Kan., plant of GM's Buick - Oldsmobile - Pontiac plane.

division, and again after the 299th

Gordon said an eight per cent profit figure was used during the negotiations but this was only for pricing purposes and not to fix the actual profit.

State Teachers Class in Radio Series over WESA

The Radio 1 class of California State Teachers College under the direction of Louise Davis, is presenting a series of programs over WESA, Charleroi radio station.

A sports program was featured last night at 6:15 when Stanley Sawa interviewed Ted Nemeth, CSTC football coach.

Tonight at 6.15 Cosmo Inserra will host the Varsity Five, a CSTC novelty musical group from the college.

Sunday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Tom Tourchack will host a half hour of music produced by the California Community Schools

On Wednesday Joy Gossie will present a women's show, and on Thursday the entire class will join in presenting "Little Cloud that Couldn't Rain".

Charleroi Cyclist Hit-Run Victim

Melvin Wheatley, 23, of Charleroi R. D, became the latest victim of a rash of motorcycle accidents which have hit the district lately.

Wheatley was struck by a hit-run driver on the Express Highway about four miles west of Speers at approximately 10:15 o'clock last night, according to State Police of the Belle Vernon barracks.

He was admitted to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital about 10:40 where he was treated for cuts of the left arm and bruises of the left leg and right portion of his back. His condition this morning was described as "good" by hospital attendants.

State Police are continuing to investigate the accident today.

Return Watreas On Masontown Murder Charge

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UP) — Joseph Watreas, 29, former Masontown High School football star, was returned here Thursday from Florida to face charges in the slaying of storekeeper.

Watreas was accused in the death of Alvin Partridge, 82, Masontown grocer, who was strangled in his store last July 29.

Watreas left Masontown the day of the slaying and married a Vanderbilt, Fayette County, girl in Oakland, Md., that same day. He was arrested Aug. 9 in Miami by FBI agents.

James Eadie, chief of Fayette County detectives, said it would be up to Maryland authorities to press bigamy charges against the suspect, who already has a wife and three-year-old son in Masontown.

Mrs. Helen Watreas said she believed her husband innocent of murder but that she would divorce him, "innocent or guilty."

Annual Rostraver Township Fair Will Be 'Biggest Ever'

The 15th annual Rostraver Twp. Fair — "biggest and best, ever" — will be staged this year at the new Junior High layout in the Sweeney Plan.

Indoor events will be held in the spacious school building while outdoor events will be held in the modern stadium nearby.

The fair will run for three days beginning Aug. 27.

As well as the usual events, the fair committee has planned entertainment for every night of the annual show. All acts will take place in the stadium.

A special feature this year will be township church night on Wednesday, Aug. 28. A program of church music will be presented, along with a narrative, from the stadium stage.

On the opening night of the fair, the Rostraver High band will perform. On the closing night, a special variety show is planned to be followed by dancing.

A fair queen will be crowned shortly after the official opening. The contest, involving nine pretty township girls, is now underway through the sponsorship of the Band Parents Association.

Here is a brief summary of the fair schedule:

Tues, Aug. 27 — 9 a. m. to noon, articles received and arranged for exhibition; 2 p. m., judging for inside articles begins and continues until completed; 7 p. m., fair officially opens; 8 p. m. Rostraver High School band concert.

Wed., Aug 28 — 2 p. m., cattle judging; 8.30 p. m. Township Church Night.

Thurs., Aug. 29 — 8 p. m., variety show; 9 p. m., round and square dancing.

There will be all sorts of farm exhibits. Judging will be divided into three main classes: livestock, home economics and farm produce.

There will be many divisions in each class, with blue ribbons going to the best-judged exhibits.

William A. Smith is chairman of the fair. Other officers are Clifford Naylor, vice-chairman; Mrs. Henry Bush, secretary; and Fred F. Herman, treasurer.

Those officers are also members of the Board of Directors along with Mrs. Scott Haury, Alex Turda, Louis Thompson, Joseph Kuma, and Mrs. Alex Cinereski.

To Widen Nine More Miles of Route 51

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department said today it will reconstruct nine miles of Traffic Route 51, north of Uniontown, as a four-lane divided highway.

One section of the proposed project will begin about one-half mile north of the Uniontown city line and extend 3.28 miles to Upper Middletown. The second section begins in Upper Middletown and goes 5.4 miles to near the intersection of Traffic Routes 711 and 51 adjacent to Star Junction.

The construction includes a six-span steel I-beam bridge over Redstone Creek and the Redstone branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad and a 27-foot reinforced concrete span over Jennings Run.

District Highway Engineer N. B. Bell, of Uniontown, was not available for further comment today.

Recently he told The Daily Independent that plans are also being prepared for the section of Route 51 through Westmoreland County.

This stretch of road will also be four lane, with the north and south bound lanes divided in some areas. Bell did not expect these plans to be completed until the end of the year.

When current projects are developed, Route 51 will be four-lane from Pittsburgh to Uniontown.

Ike Wants Aid Cuts Restored

Truman Backs up President

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland told President Eisenhower today that with Democratic help the Senate may restore a "substantial" part of the 809 million dollars chopped from foreign aid funds by the House.

Knowland said after a breakfast strategy conference with Eisenhower that the President's threat to call Congress into special session to boost the mutual security appropriation was not discussed. But it remained a strong possibility

In cutting back the aid bill Thursday, the House ignored the special session threat and urgent appeals from Eisenhower and Democratic ex-President Truman. It voted a total of $3,191,810,000—including $2,524,760,000 in new money and $667,050,000 in carryover funds. This is a reduction of $1,287,000,000 or 30 per cent less than Eisenhower's "bare bones" demand.

It was one of Eisenhower's worst congressional defeats.

Knowland said he would "explore on a bipartisan basis" how much of the slash could be put back by the Senate, which will take up the bill next week.

Knowland said the President "is hopeful that the Senate will be able to review the House action and restore a substantial part of the amount cut." He added, however, that he did not think Congress will finally restore all the House cut.

Acting Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted the Senate Appropriations Committee and Senate will approve between $2,800,000,000 and three billion dollars He said the final congressional figure would be somewhere between that and the $2,524,760,000 House total.

No Senate action is expected before next week.

Press Plea

Eisenhower pleaded in an extraordinary "spot" press conference Wednesday that Congress vote the entire sum of $3,367,000,000 contained in the aid "authorization" bill which sets the spending ceiling for the 12-month perod.

He said the reduced ceiling figure itself would have a "serious" effect and he would have "no recourse" in event of a further sizeable cut but to call Congress special session to seek more money.

Eisenhower did not say how big a cut would cause him to call a special session. He said he was not going to do so if Congress took a "$10 bill" out of the ceiling figure.

Has Truman Support

Truman said the fact the current bill came from the Eisenhower administration "should not lessen the support of any Democrat for it." He said he approached foreign aid on a "wholly non-partisan basis" and "believed" Eisenhower did too.

Calling the aid program "absolutely vital to our security," he particularly urged Democrats to "lay aside all partisanship" and support the proposed new development loan fund contained in the bill. This is aimed at backing long-term efforts to build up underdeveloped areas of the world on the side of freedom, we must help them in their efforts to move forward," Truman said in his letter.

WARNS OF SPECIAL SESSION — President Eisenhower wears a severe look as he tells reporters at a special press conference in the White House that he stands ready to call congress back into special session if foreign aid is cut below the level vital to U. S. security.

'Bombshell' Promised in Libel Case

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP) —Defense Attorney Arthur J. Crowley said today he was prepared to call a "bombshell" witness in his first attempt to prove the Confidential Magazine printed the truth about the alleged sexual activities of some of filmland's biggest stars.

The stage was set for one of the spiciest courtroom productions in history Thursday when Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker, ruled that some 100 subpenaed movie celebrities must testify at the Confidential criminal libel trial. The trial was to resume today, following Thursday recess during which Walker denied a defense legal maneuver.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Clarence Linn was epected to wind up the state's case sometime during today's trial session. He indicated he wouldn't call any more witnesses on behalf of the prosecution but was expected to read into the court record additional stories alleged to be libelous and obscene, including "the pill that ends unwanted pregnancy" and "pegotalo: the vine that makes you virile."

Crowley indicated his opening defense move would be a sensational one. He refused to reveal the first defense witness on the ground that "I want this to come as a complete surprise to the prosecution."

The defense attorney added that the witness would throw a "bombshell" into the state's case against Confidential. He indicated the witness would be some one not connected with the movie industry possibly from out of town, say, New York.

Following today's proceedings, the trial was to be recessed until Monday.

Colonel Charged in 'Firing' Incident

FORT SILL, Okla. (UP) — Lt. Col. Walter P. Berger today faced charges of ordering a "resume fire" to artillery guns that killed four men after his superior officer had stopped the erroneous firing.

Charges against Berger, 48, of Philadelphia, were announced Thursday just before he took the stand as a defense witness in the court-martial of 2nd Lt. Rosser L. Moody Jr., 22, of Toano, Va., also charged with homicide.

Berger refused to answer any questions about the incident. Each time he said, "upon advice of my counsel I have been instructed to refuse to answer on the basis it might tend to incriminate me."

Both prosecution and defense rested in Moody's trial Thursday leaving only final arguments before the case went to the eight-man court-martial board today.

Moody admitted he had accidentally transposed some firing data causing a 4 2-inch mortar shell to fall short among a company of advancing ground troops.

The incident June 22 killed four soldiers and injured 13 during a public demonstration at the Army artillery and missile school here.

Lt. Col. Walter D. Short, acting officer in charge of the exercise, testified he ordered a "cease fire" when it looked like mortar shells had landed in the wrong area.

Short said Berger telephoned him asking why the "cease fire" was given. Short said he knew the mortar shells should have been fired at a deeper target and that Berger told him they were not mortar shells but 105 mm howitzers.

"I told him to check," Short said, "and if they were 105's then he could resume fire."

Firing was resumed and the fatal mortar shells fell among the advancing infantry platoon, Short said.

Berger was expected to be brought to trial in a week or 10 days.

Suggests Reds Started 'Flu'

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars here have asked the United Nations to investigate "the possibility" that Russia and Red China are behind he threatened epidemic of Asiatic Flu.

In a letter to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold the commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the VFW, William J. Tepsic, asked that the World Health Organization "immediately undertake inquiry" into the origin of the disease, "with specific attention to the possibility the germs came from Red China or he Soviet Union.. as biological adventures to cripple physically and economically the populations of the free world nations."

In the letter, dated Aug. 15, Tepsic asked: "Is the recently and mysteriously closed Communist Asiatic naval base at Vladivostock the origin of this disease?"

"Americans, it would seem, are peculiarly susceptible to Asiatic Flu."

Copies of the letter were distributed to news media today.

Weiss

ed that the guest list included about 150 persons, including members of the Weiss family, close friends and the visiting judges.

The swearing-in of Judge Weiss gives the county a full common pleas court of four judges for the first time since the death of Judge McWherter last April.

To Elect Three

The county will elect three judges this fall. Besides Judge Weiss, the Democratic nominees are Judge Edward G. Bauer, seeking a second term, and District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco. The latter two were nominated in the Democratic primary in May. Judge Laird is retiring at the end of this year.

Judge Weiss was selected by the Democratic county executive committee as the party's nominee for the vacancy created by Judge McWherter's death.

The Republican judicial candidates besides Rial are Avra N. Pershing Jr. and Willis E. Topper. Rial and Pershing were nominated at the primary and Topper was chosen by the Republican County Committee for Judge McWherter's seat.

Judge Weiss today announced the appointment of Joseph Smolich, of New Brighton, as his court reporter. Previously he had appointed Mrs. Justine McGovern, of Monessen, as his secretary.

New Unrest Develops over Segregation Issue in South

By UNITED PRESS

Elements of opposing sides of the segregation controversy—terrorists and alleged Negro boycotters—are being investigated in Alabama today.

Elsewhere in the South there were developments of almost every type — renewed attempts by Negroes to enter white schools, complaints about other racial incidents, and picketing of a controversial movie.

Authorities at Maplesville and Evergreen, Ala., were investigating two mass floggings by robed Ku Klux Klansmen while the Alabama attorney general used undercover counter agents in an attempt to break up an alleged racial boycott by Negroes of Tuskegee, Ala.

There was speculation in North Carolina that the state's pupil-assignment law may be brought into a court test by 20 Negro pupils who were denied their second plea to enter white schools at Charlotte Thursday.

The applicants were among 35 turned away by the Charlotte school board recently, after the board there and boards of two other North Carolina cities decided to permit a few transfers of Negroes to white schools this fall.

In Florida, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asked Gov. Leroy Collins to order a full investigation of two recent racial incidents, one flogging and a shooting.

The flogging victim was a mill worker at Jasper. In the other incident, at Dade City, someone fired into an automobile in which white and Negro baseball players were riding together, slightly wounding a white player.

A showing of the movie, "Island In The Sun," touched off a downtown parade by 200 robed and hooded Ku Klu Klansmen Thursday night in Jacksonville, Fla.

Scores of city, county and state police gathered at the Florida theater to prevent possible disorders. Other pickets had paraded in front of the theater earlier in the day.

In the Klan incident at Maplesville six Negro men were beaten last Friday night during a demonstration by some 150 robed and hooded men. Authorities said three of the Negroes have since fled with their families.

Authorities at Evergreen, about 100 miles from Maplesville, disclosed that four Negroes including two ministers had been accosted on a highway, kidnaped and beaten the previous night.

The state of Alabama meanwhile obtained a court order for Negro leaders at Tuskegee to end alleged economic warfare which threatens to put white merchants out of business.

The Negroes, members of the Tuskegee Civic Assn., denied there is any organized boycott. They claimed they were campaigning for "first class citizenship because the state Legislature changed the city boundary to reduce Negro voting power.

Dio Is Charged With Evasion Of Income Tax

NEW YORK (UP)—Income tax evasion charges, the downfall of many a top mobster, today added to the woes of racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi self-styled labor "consultant" whose empire began to totter with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

Filing of the tax charges Thursday came on the heels of Dio's recent conviction for selling labor peace. And it followed by a week the 43-year-old racketeer's appearance before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, during which he invoked the Fifth Amendment 141 times in reply to questions about his labor activities.

Dio broke into the headlines a year ago in the Riesel case. The government accused Dio of being the mastermind behind the acid-blinding of the crusading columnist Subsequently, however, his trial was postponed when two convicted henchmen refused to testify as prosecution witnesses in fear of reprisals.

Then last month Dio was convicted of conspiring to extort $30,000 from two partners in an electroplating firm. He is now in jail awaiting sentencing on the charge, for which he could receive two years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

In addition, Dio faces trial this fall for allegedly shaking down two firms for $11,500 in his position as a labor "consultant." If convicted as a second felony offender, he could be sent to prison for 30 years. In 1937, Dio was sentenced to a 3 to 5 year term in Sing Sing prison for the same crime.

Brownsville May Hold Two Teachers On '60-Day' Clause

The Brownsville School Board today threatened to invoke the seldom-used "60-day clause" to keep two teachers on the job.

This week the Board rejected resignations from Mrs. Virginia Becker and Charles Muchoney.

Unless suitable replacements are found, the directors indicated that they will require the teachers to stay in the school system until September 25.

Mrs. Becker has been offered a reported $5500 teaching position in Monongahela. Muchoney, who also served for three years as assistant basketball, football and baseball coach, planned to accept a $4,800 teaching position at Hurst High, his home area.

The Brownsville Board cited the short notice and the difficulty in obtaining replacements as the reasons for holding the two teachers.

Search on For Missing Pilot

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J. (UP) —The Coast Guard searched today for an Air Force officer whose jet crashed in the sea after he ordered his radio operator to bail out.

1st Lt. Robert E. Holley, 27, Elmore, Ala., was missing and presumed dead after his F89S Scorpion Jet Interceptor plunged into the sea Thursday.

S.Sgt. John C. Williams, Chestertown, Md., was injured when he parachuted to a beach 10 miles from here. He was taken to Burdette Tomlin Memorial Hospital at Cape May with a fractured left leg and multiple abrasions of the body.

Officials at the Dover, Del. Air Force Base said Holley ordered Williams to bail out shortly after the plane left Dover for Maxwell Field, Ala., "due to aircraft difficulty."

An Air Force spokesman added that a part of the plane's wing was found in the ocean.

New Impetus for Jeannette 'Mall'

A plan to turn downtown Jeannette into a "shopping mall" received new impetus this week after a public meeting.

No outright opposition was voiced to the plan which would completely eliminate traffic in the business section of town except for fire trucks and emergency vehicles.

The Jeannette planners figure it will take $30,000 per block to build the "shopping mall." Presently the project calls for converting a two-block area.

Trees, shrubbery, benches, play areas, water fountains and rest rooms are provided in the plan.

No Settlement

BOSTON (UP)—The eight-day old Boston newspaper strike, which has idled some 5,000 employes and deprived more than a million readers of their regular papers, seemed likely today to continue through the weekend.

Plenty of Nothing

JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—Reporter Thatcher Walt of the Jackson State Times wasn't even tempted to take any of the $2,714.30 he found at a circus performance here. Thatcher found a fat wallet containing $2,714 in play money used in monopoly games but the 30 cents was in hard cash.

Washington County to Set up Planning Group

The Washington County Redevelopment Authority has called a general meeting for Tuesday as an initial step towards organizing a Greater Monongahela Valley Regional Planning Commission.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. at the Community Center at Seventh St. and McKean Ave. in Donora. Representatives from the following communities have been invited: Monongahela, Carroll and Fallowfield townships, Allenport, Charleroi, Donora, Elco, Dunlevy, New Eagle, North Charleroi, Twilight and Speers.

Jacob G. Kassab, executive director of the County Commission, said Tuesday's meeting is for the purpose of establishing a Regional Planning Commission to develop an integrated comprehensive plan for the entire area rather than have each area develop its own plan "without knowing what the other is doing."

In a letter to the valley communities, Kassab stated:

"The cost of developing a regional plan covering the entire area would be considerably cheaper than the cost of doing a number of individual plans even if they overlapped. The quality of work would be better because the Highway, School, and Utility Plans would be integrated and the zoning and subdivision regulations would be based on the future land use proposal for the entire region.

"A regional group would also have more influence in getting a regional project adopted by the State and Federal Government. Townships participating in a regional program will not feel that their cooperation will necessarily mean annexation. A regional planning commission would also be able to afford a resident planner to administer and continue the planning program which was adopted.

The Washington County Commissioners have agreed, if asked, to join the different regional planning commissions established in the county and underwrite a share of the local cost.

"At this meeting we will discuss what communities are willing to join a Regional Planning Commission. The composition and size of the commission and approximate costs.

"There are many pressing problems in Washington County which will not be solved unless the communities involved do some comprehensive planning on a regional basis. These included industrial development, unemployment, transportation, stream polution, development of new subdivisions without adequate facilities, protection of property values, and proper location of new school facilities, as well as, redevelopment of blighted areas and the protection of future industrial sites.

Home of Negro Is Protected

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (UP) — A cordon of state police today ringed the home of a Negro who moved into this previously all-white community Tuesday.

The state troopers were ordered in by Gov. George M. Leader Thursday night to prevent possible damage after an appeal was made by Bucks County Sheriff C. Leroy Murray. The troopers blocked the three entrances to the Dogwood Hollow section, permitting only residents to pass.

Leader, addressing a group of Democratic leaders in Reading, Pa. Thursday night, said the stoning of Myers home last Tuesday was "completely alien to the historic principles upon which Pennsylvania was built."

"Any family has the right to live where it can obtain legal possession on any street, road or highway in this Commonwealth," he said.

Some 500 residents attended a meeting at the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post here to devise means to "peacefully" get William Myers, his wife and their three children to move.

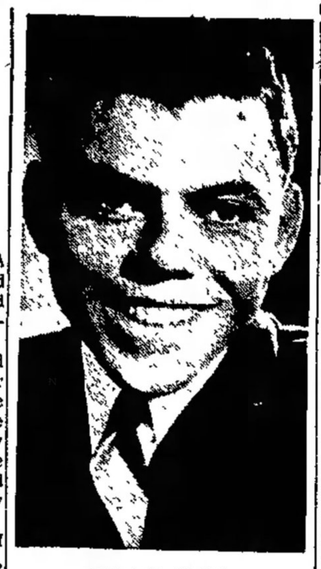
A committee was formed and a collection was taken to finance "legal" action against Myers, an employe of a refrigeration firm in Trenton, N. J. who announced he intended to remain. The collection amounted to an estimated $150 and another meeting was scheduled for tonight.

There was only one disturbance at the meeting, which had to be held outdoors because of the overflow crowd. An unidentified man who said he came from Philadelphia was told to "stay out of this" and later was ejected for heckling.

Crowds formed again in front of the Myers home despite the appearance of the uniformed state police. They stomped and jeered and clapped their hands, but there was no violence and no arrests were made.

The Myers family has not occupied the house since the first mass demonstration which started shortly after they moved in. Two windows were damaged by stones at that time.

Myers said he would return to the home with his family when a leaky oil tank is repaired.



Elliot F. Kulick

Ex Monessen Man Receives Degree

Elliot F. Kulick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kulick, former residents of Monessen, was awarded an Honors Degree in Law at Oxford University in England on Aug. 3.

The degree was presented by the vice chancellor of the university in the presence of Fellows and students of the various colleges.

Kulick holds a B. A. degree from the University of Chicago. He will return to the United States and finish his legal studies at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law after a trip to the Middle East this month.

He attended Monessen Schools before going to Washington D. C. to act as a page in the Senate.

House Democrats Look for GOP Support on Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—Key Democrats expressed confidence today that the House stalemate over the civil rights bill has been broken and that Republicans would swing toward the Democratic position.

The Democrats were elated that Rep. Kenneth . Keating (N.Y., a leading civil rights strategist, said he would rather accept the Senate's version of the measure with a jury trial limitation than have "no bill at all" this year.

Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), another leading GOP rights backer, said he would meet today with three other members of the House Rules Committee to consider their next move. The Senate-passed rights bill has been lodged in the committee since last week.

Smith indicated Republicans will be prepared to offer a compromise if their first plan of sending the measure to a Senate-House conference fails.

Democratic leaders have been pressing Republicans to accept the Senate-passed civil rights bill with only a change to limit jury trials in federal criminal contempt cases to voting rights cases. Republicans have been holding out for a stronger bill.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), House Democratic floor leader for civil rights, predicted the rules committee would approve the Democratic plan "in a jiffy" next week.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (Mont.), acting Senate Democratic leader, said "it looks like the dam has been broken and politics and expediency have been replaced by logic and reason."

Other congressional news:

Defense: Key senators urged President Eisenhower and the administration to explain whether military manpower and spending reductions would cut down U.S. defenses. They also wanted to know if it would affect the U.S. position at the London disarmament talks. Sen. Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he hoped the reductions would not sacrifice "our security in the name of economy."

Flu: The Senate Appropriations Committee has restored a $300,000 administration cut to the Public Health Service to help them combat the oriental flu. The committee approved in all $800,000 to the service to carry out its fight against an expected epidemic of the disease.

Both Parties Out To Register More Voters in State

HARRISBURG (UP)—A blue ribbon panel of state Democratic leaders told party political workshops in Harrisburg and Reading the November county and municipal elections "can be won in the registration period."

Commonwealth Secretary James A. Finnegan said there were about one million eligible voters in Pennsylvania who have not registered. He said surveys revealed 60 to 65 per cent of them would vote Democratic if they were registered.

"The 1957 elections can be won in the registration period between now and Sept. 17," Finnegan told Democratic leaders from central Pennsylvania counties.

Gov. George M. Leader called on county chairmen to work on enrolling the "young voters" as Democrats. He estimated 80 per cent of the youthful voters should be Democrats. The governor also emphasized the "need" for a Democratic - controlled executive and legislative branch.

"Pennsylvania must have a Democratic governor and Assembly some time in the near future to complete our humanitarian program in state government," he said.

Two 'Suspicious' Pittsburgh Fires

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The fire department today investigated two fires which broke out Thursday afternoon at Divine Providence Academy, causing about $6,000 damage.

Fire Chief Stephen P. Adley said the cause of the fires was not known but the circumstances were suspicious. He said the possibility of arson was being investigated.

The first fire started in a pile of books in the academy's St. Joseph's Art School and the second in a cupboard.

None of the nuns, members of the Order of Divine Providence, who operate the academy, was hurt.

Fishers Open Second Store in Monessen

Fisher Brothers opened a second store in Monessen this morning, making it the 21st unit of the Fisher chain. Special ceremonies marked the opening.

The new store is located at the corner of Fifth St. and Donner Ave and the other store, which has been in Monessen for 30 years, is at 571 Donner Ave.

Norman Henderson, manager here for three years, has been made general manager of both units and Joseph Sholtis, assistant manager. Florence Leone, who has been associated with Fisher's for 27 years, will manage the new unit.

The new store, which covers 2,200 square feet of sales space, will feature ladies ready-to-wear, such as coats, suits, dresses, millinery, hose, etc., along with infants wear. The other unit will continue to carry clothing and accessories for men and women.

Praises Monessen

In a statement announcing the opening of the new store, Benjamin Bloom, vice-president, said, "Monessen is a very healthy business community. And with its new 'renaissance program' underway, Fisher's want to contribute its fair share of progress."

City Councilman John Kotch, Jr., and Chamber of Commerce President Charles W. Hagerstrand took part in the ceremonies this morning.

The sotre will remain open until 9 o'clock tonight.

List Winners At Bridge Club

Seven tables of bridge were in play when the Magic City Bridge Club met last night in the Charleroi Elks Club.

North-south winners were Mike Tomich, of Clairton and Mrs. Frederic Feldman, of Belle Vernon, first; Mrs. Alice Fiscus, of Charleroi and E. J. Feeney, of Brookline, second.

East-west winners were all from Charleroi. They were Glenn Porter and Dave Rosenberg, first; Mrs. Glenn Porter and Renie Henry, second.

One Killed, Two Injured in Blast At Naval Lab

CUMBERLAND, Md (UP) — One man was killed and two others were injured in an explosion and fire at the Navy's Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory Thursday night.

Killed in the blast was Raymond R. Miller Sr., 7.

R. W. Meals, assistant plant manager at the large installation, today termed the explosion and fire as "minor . . . in the course of normal operations."

He said the "exact cause of the accident has not been determined" adding that a "complete and thorough" investigation would be conducted.

Authorities said damage to facilities appeared "to be of a minor nature."

Injured in the accident were Paul Hendrickson, 58, of Cumberland and Harold Carl, 44, of Springfield, W.Va.

Hendrickson was treated for lacerations and a possible foot fracture and detained for X-rays and observation. Carl was treated for leg lacerations and released.

The three victims were the only occupants of the building at the time of the explosion.

New Effort to End Glass Strike

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A federal mediator made a last-ditch effort today to break a deadlock in negotiations for a wage contract covering 5,000 skilled workers in 28 glass container manufacturing plants.

Mediator William Rose of Philadelphia said that if the deadlock were not broken today he would call an indefinite recess in the negotiations between the AFL-CIO Flint Glass Workers and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

The current contract epires on Aug. 31. The union seeks an 11 per cent wage increase spread over two years for the workers, who now receive $2.50 an hour. The manufacturers have offered 5½ per cent.

Reveal Plans for Rt. 30 By-pass At Greensburg

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department announced today it will construct a by-pass of Greensburg for traffic using U. S Route 30 through Westmoreland County.

The by-pass, about five miles long, will be a limited access four-lane divided highway, south of the city. It will begin about 800 feet west of the present crossing of Pennsylvania Railroad tracks. The eastern terminus will be four-tenths of a mile east of the city line, near St. Clair cemetery.

The by-pass will have six interchanges located at the intersection of Otterman St. and Pittsburgh St near the western end; at W. Newton St.; South Main St.; County Road; Traffic Route 180 and at U. S. 30, the eastern terminus.

The road will follow a route southwest across Traffic Route 180 and County Road to a point in Hempfield Twp., where it turns west across U. S. 119, near the Greensburg-South Greensburg line across Traffic Route 71, nearly paralleling Lincoln Ave. The route crosses U. S. 30 and parallels it minus. The state and federal governments will split the cost of the highway construction on a 50-50 basis.

Accept Bids on Police Barracks

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General State Authority will receive bids Sept. 4 for construction of a $350,000 barracks for state police at Greensburg, Westmoreland County.

To Conduct Survey of County Polio Victims

A countywide survey to discover the current rehabilitation needs of all post-polio patients will be conducted this month by the Westmoreland County Chapter of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis, William D. Lewis, Chapter Chairman, announced today.

The county survey is part of a nationwide project by the National Foundation to compile a roster of polio cases of all ages and degree of disability, regardless of date of onset. The canvass here is to be completed by Sept. 1.

"Modern medicine has made impressive strides in developing new rehabilitation techniques in recent years, Lewis said. "Pilot surveys already undertaken show that there are thousands of polio-handicapped in the United States who have not yet had an opportunity for medical evaluation to determine if they might benefit from these new techniques.

New Techniques

"Some of the techniques employed today for those disabled by polio and other causes were unknown or unused as recently as 10 or even five years ago.

"The March of Dimes organization, having scored a tremendous victory in its war on polio, does not now propose to walk off and leave the wounded behind, so long as help for them is possible. We wish to find everyone who has had polio, whether paralytic or non-paralytic. We want to know what their special problems may be, so that they may be helped to regain useful lives, if humanly possible, even though it will take a considerable period of time."

Lewis said that the roster was to be made in close cooperation with the Westmoreland County Medical Society and member physicians. The Department of Public Welfare, Offce of Vocatonal Rehabilitation, State Crippled Children's Service and county school systems also will cooperate.

Information Sought

Information sought for each patient includes whether he is employed or attends school, if he can climb stairs and dress himself, whether he receives regular treatment and if he uses a respiratory aid. Information gained will be helpful to all such agencies and organizations.

Lewis asked that all persons who have ever had polio — whether disabled or not — send their names and addresses directly to Mrs. Louise M. Kemerer, Secretary — Westmoreland County Chapter, National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis Inc., 234 Locust Valley Rd., Greensburg.

A Case in Point

THE APPOINTMENT by Westmoreland County District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco of Richard E. McCormick to be an assistant D. A. is characteristic of the manner in which this office has been conducted for many years under the management of the Democratic courthouse political machine.

An as individual, Mr. McCormick may be a capable attorney — we have no information on that point. And he is certainly entitled to a chance to demonstrate his capacity.

But the young man has been associated in the practice of law with his father, Paul K. McCormick, a criminal lawyer who frequently appears in court as the defender of racketeers. It is almost automatic when a racketeer is arrested in Westmoreland County for him to send promptly for the elder Mr. McCormick.

We recognize that there is nothing illegal about this. Under our system even the scum of the underworld is entitled to legal counsel. And a lawyer is free to serve such a clientele if he chooses, without violating the ethics of the profession.

We raise the question, however, as to whether a son and a professional associate of an attorney regularly employed by racketeers is, in the very nature of things, the ideal choice for a position which makes him the sworn enemy of lawbreakers, duty bound to find them and punish them. The picture of McCormick chasing down and punishing the clients of McCormick is not an easy one to conjure.

But of course the attitude of Mr. Sculco and the courthouse political machine with respect to the organized rackets is well known. The policy long has been: live and let live. And it is unlikely that as an assistant D. A. under Mr. Sculco young Mr. McCormick will be spending much time and energy in this neglected phase of the responsibilities of the district attorney.

Try Toll TV

THE SERIES of articles on "toll television" by William Ewald of the United Press which has appeared in The Daily Independent recently has convinced us more than ever that this plan has great possibilities and deserves a trial.

Commercial television is not beginning to realize the full potentialities of the medium, and we doubt that it ever can. As long as the public can see on television only what some advertisers are willing to pay for, there is not much chance of raising the present level of programs. And this level is not nearly high enough.

All the surveys which have been conducted have shown a substantial portion of television set owners willing and even anxious to pay for the many kinds of programs which commercial television does not offer. And the inventors of the various toll television systems maintain with convincing arguments that they can make this idea serve a real public interest.

The Federal Communications Commission has delayed a trial of toll television much too long in spite of the fact that the FCC itself has admitted that the plan has real merit. Further delay is going to be very difficult for most people to understand.

Time for Action

JUST WHY it is taking so much official prodding to get the Monessen police to enforce the city's curfew law is hard to understand.

First the School Board discusses the need for enforcement as a means of curbing wanton destruction of school property, supposedly by children. And the board communicates with the chief of police and the City Council, formally requesting enforcement.

Now the members of Council discuss the matter in their meeting, each councilman in turn delivering himself of an opinion that the curfew should be enforced. Then the Council goes on record "instructing" the chief of police to "crack down".

Why all this wordage? The law is on the books, and the police department exists for the purpose of enforcing the laws. The need is certainly great to do something about juveniles who seem to have no homes and no parents and have to spend their time loafing on street corners and throwing rocks through the windows of school buildings.

It seems to us that we've had plenty of talk and that some action is now in order. Discussion and letters and threats in the newspaper have done all they can do; now the police will just have to get to work and do what everybody agrees has to be done.

Merry-Go-Round—

Nixon Bars Compromise On 'Rights'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most vigorous and effective current pusher for the present civil rights bill is Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Talking to Senate leaders Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Bill Knowland of California the other day he said:

Mr. Pearson

"You are two big strong men. Why don't you go over to the House of Representatives and exercise some influence?

"Here is Joe Martin who never wanted a civil rights bill before in his life but who is now the great champion of the Negro. He even says the NAACP doesn't represent the Negro. He wants to go further than the NAACP.

"These great fighting liberals from Connecticut and Massachusetts like Meade Alcorn and Joe Martin are having a wonderful time with their new-found religion," said Humphrey, "but they are not helping the rest of the country."

Knowland has been working conscientiously on the House Republicans to get acceptance of a modified civil rights bill. However, his problem is much more basic. It's a man who doesn't love him too much or vice versa — Vice President Nixon

The real backstage manipulator on civil rights is Nixon, who wants the civil rights issue held over until next year's elections. Nixon has been calling congressmen, demanding that they stand pat, make not a single change in the original House civil rights bill.

Speaker Rayburn's Sponge

Shortly before much-loved Speaker Sam Rayburn threw in the sponge for the natural gas bill at this session of Congress, Rep. Torbey MacDonald of Boston came to see him.

"Is the gas bill likely to come up for a vote before Thursday, Mr. Speaker?" asked MacDonald. "I want to leave town until Thursday, and I want to be on deck to vote against it."

This was bearding the lion in his den, because Mr. Sam has been one of the chief backers of the gas bill. However, Mr. Sam also believes in the democratic principle of letting every man vote. He blinked a bit, then replied:

"It won't be brought up before next Thursday."

Shortly after that, Mr. Sam publicly threw in the sponge until next year.

Reason Mr. Sam threw in the sponge was the efforts of some young, vigorous congressmen led by MacDonald of Boston, John Dingell of Detroit, and Charles Vanik of Cleveland, all Democrats, all first or second-term congressmen. Backing up their efforts were such important organizations as the Alabama League of Municipalities and many of the mayors of the United States.

A dozen or so big city mayors came to Washington to testify against the gas bill, while Ed Reid, head of the Alabama League of Municipalities, wrote to every Alabama congressman asking him how he planned to vote on the gas bill, received word from every Alabama legislator except Frank Boykin of Mobile that they would vote against the gas bill. Boykin is out of town.

Ike vs. Milton

President Eisenhower has indicated that he sometimes argues with himself as to the best method of resolving the nation's problems. Apparently he hasn't argued with his brother Milton lately about Latin American friendship.

For, while brother Milton was in Mexico trying to strengthen Mexican-American friendship, his brother in the White House was sponsoring a bill that would paralyze the most important industry in Mexico — lead and zinc mining. It would also seriously hurt another good neighbor, Peru.

Oscar Chapman, former Secretary of the Interior, who used to boss the nation's mining, called some of these facts to the attention of the House Ways and Means Committee recently when it considered the Eisenhower administration proposal to place an excise import tax on lead and zinc.

"Mexico is the largest customer of the United States in all of Latin America," reminded Chapman, "and the third ranking U. S. customer in the entire world.

"In 1956," he said, "Mexico imported $840 million worth of U. S. goods. And exported to us only $400 million, leaving Mexico with an unfavorable balance of trade of more than $400 million for the year. If we now cut off her export of zinc and lead, which constitute about 20 per cent of her entire exports, we will diminish the goods she can buy from us."

A Precarious Position

From Washington—

Talk Economy, Act Wastefully

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

You have undoubtedly heard of the economy-talkers in Congress who won't let the government economize when it affects their districts.

They rake in the kudos — and the votes — both ways. When they talk economy they please voters who think they mean it right down the line. When they prevent economy — usually on the quiet — they please voters who are benefited.

Mr. Drummond

This isn't theory; this is reality. Here is a concrete case study to show it — to show how the United States Army is forced by Congress to spend taxpayers' money it doesn't need to spend, doesn't want to spend, is eager to save but is prevented from saving by congressional directive.

Army Was Cut

Take these general facts and we'll get to the specific in a moment:

The manpower of the U. S. Army was cut by 326,000 from 1951 to 1955. I go back to 1955 because that was when the economy could have begun.

The end of the Korean War stopped battle casualties.

Hospitalization of Army personnel was cut nearly in half between 1952 and 1955.

The Veterans Administration took over most veteran and military chronic cases.

Under these circumstances the Defense Department made special study of all of its hospital installations and found that two of them — the Murphy Hospital at Waltham, Mass., and the Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., were no longer needed.

Whereupon the Army announced that two hospitals would be closed at a combined saving of $1,000,000 each year; a saving of $5,000,000 in five years, $10,000,000 in ten years, etc.

Congress said no.

The Army had the authority to close these unneeded hospitals but they haven't the authority any longer.

When the congressional politicians from Arkansas and Massachusetts heard about the news, they cried crocodile tears and rent the air with anguished wails.

Then came a massive operation of congressional back-scratching and Congress proceeded to write it into the law that the Army must continue to operate these hospitals, even if unneeded and uneconomical.

Thus a saving of $1,000,000 each year was stopped in its tracks.

Apart from the troops at Camp Chaffee, which has its own station hospital, there are no more than 300 Army personnel in the state of Arkansas.

Under Secretary of Defense Charles C. Finucane reported to Congress on April 28, 1955:

"The Secretary of Defense recently completed a review of the overall defense requirements for hospitals and has determined that there is no requirement for the continued operation of Army-Navy Hospital. Accordingly the Department of the Army will inactivate Army and Navy Hospital by June 30, 1955."

It wasn't allowed to do so. With the same facts — hospital greatly under-used and with nearby facilities adequate to all needs — on Murphy Hospital in Massachusetts, Congress directed the Army by law to keep it going.

Under Secretary Finucane took the same position before Congress in 1956 and again this year. He reported on Feb. 5 of this year:

"The Department of the Army has been operating Army-Navy Hospital, Hot Springs, and Murphy Hospital, Waltham, in 1956 and 1957 in accordance with public law. Prior to each of these years the Army made representation to Congress that the continued operation of these medical facilities was (1) detrimental to the overall medical care program, and (2) not required at that time or in the future to provide necessary medical support of the Army."

He said further: "The Army still considers the operation of these two hospitals" to be "inefficient and uneconomical."

But funds for their continued operation are included in the 1958 budget because of the demands of Congress. If you don't like these goings-on perhaps Sens. McClellan and Fulbright of Arkansas and Sens. Saltonstall and Kennedy of Massachusetts would like to hear from you — or would they?

AFL-CIO Joins Fight Against 'Tight Money'

By RAMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UP)—The AFL-CIO has given the Democrats a big assist in their continuing assault on the tight money policy of the Eisenhower administration.

In attacking the policy of rising interest rates, the AFL-CIO Executive Council went about as far as Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), the most acid-tongued critic of that policy.

Mr. Lahr

At their Chicago meeting the labor chieftains listed a series of administration decisions and said theye were "designed to hasten a recession as the best means of adjusting to the paradoxical situation of rising prices and declining production."

Recall Douglas Statement

This was Kerr talking in a statement last week end:

"A big issue now raging within the high council of high finance and government is whether to tell the people that a 'moderate recession' is being planned."

Few Democrats have gone as far as Kerr in charging the administration with a calculated plan to bring about a recession to check the boom. Some of them may be mindful of the fact that Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) is still being accused of predicting depression in 1954 when he says he was only sounding a warning.

But the idea of a planned recession has been given attention by some financial writers. Kerr said a recession is already being felt in parts of the country.

Viewed As Hardship

If his fellow Democrats are more cautious many of them are trying to get all the mileage they can out of criticizing the administration's "hard money" policy. They view it as a hardship for home-buyers, farmers and businessmen who may be hurting because of scarce credit.

To these arguments administration spokesmen have replied that higher interest rates were needed to curb inflation and to balance the supply and demand of credit.

But even Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), who has never been known as an "easy money" man, is asking if higher interest rates are not inflationary in raising business costs and leading to higher prices. And he worries that higher interest charges increase the federal budget through the increased cost of servicing the national debt.

These questions have drawn the reply that interest rates are an insignificant factor in business costs and higher rates on government bonds are a small price to pay for holding down inflation.

At this point in 1957, however, the Democrats expect to be making a big issue of tight money through the 1958 political campaign and possibly on into 1960.

The Lighter Side—

Executive Finds Home Makes Ideal Office

By DOC QUIGG

GREENWICH, Conn. (UP)—Victor Muscat says you can talk all you want to about decentralizing industry, but he's the only man he knows of who's a decentralized executive. He works at home and likes it.

What's the sense of wasting a couple of hours each day commuting to a hectic office in a jammed place called New York when you can sit with a seven-line phone and secretary beside your swimming pool and work serenely while your wife and three kids splash happily in the foreground and birds tottle tenderly in the background?

That's a good question. It's one Muscat asked himself three years ago. He's been working at home ever since.

Think More Clearly

"I've found you can think much more clearly, work out your problems much better, away from the center of activity," he said. "And I can get on the phone and give orders just as well here in Greenwich as I can from any central office."

One of the things he's been thinking about is where tubes are going. He's in toothpaste tubes. He has 11 factories dotted around the United States, Canada, and Venezuela, and is president of the Victor Metal Products Corp. He's in tubes up to his—well, to the tune of 200,000,000 a year made for toothpaste, shaving, and cosmetics outfits.

As I say, he's been thinking, and I'm afraid I got him going on the subject of whither tubes are drifting by asking what was intended to be a nonsense question. Why couldn't the ketchup problem—how to get it out of the bottle — be solved by putting it in tubes?

Biggest Future

"Certainly!" he said. "We expect that to be the biggest future use of tubes—not only ketchup but all the condiments, peanut butter, jams and jellies, mustard, soft cheeses. . .why, it's all done in Europe right now. In Switzerland, for instance, that's the biggest use of tubes. You can get butter in tubes there.

"You have to keep it the right temperature in the refrigerator. It comes out in a long string like toothpaste.

"And peanut butter is a natural. A mother can let the child make a sandwich all by himself, without leaving a knife around, by just leaving a tube and some bread on the table. Why, I can envision a mother sending the child to school without ever having to make lunch—just carrying three little tubes, of cream cheese, meat spread, and jelly, and a piece of bread.

The Views of Others—

The War on Grime

(From The New York Times)

Complaints, reports are no solution for our war on air pollution. Our smoke has gone from bad to worse. Our housewives now lament in verse. Our breezes, they complain, convey grime, soot and smoke and dust our way. Our air contamination bothers us folk, but not the city fathers. We've had enough of conversation; it's time for an appropriation.

All kinds of soot still fill our air, but Pittsburgh found a cure there. While inky smoke obscures our skies, we back and fill and temporize. Our war on smoke indeed is slow — we're where we were five years ago. Our housewives find, though weather's fine, their clothes grow sooty on the line. That's why we feel it's just a joke — this talk of our attack on smoke.

The women now, and that's a fact, demand the city fathers act. The women speak, the city hears — perhaps we'll get some engineers, some clerks, inspectors and, to boot, the wherewithal to sample soot. If we will not take 'No' at all, we'll win our point at City Hall. Let's get the funds we need to clear our foul and grimy atmosphere."

Mrs. Andrew Jotko
(Sophia Wisyanski)

Sophia Wisyanski Becomes Bride of Andrew Jotko

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Sophia Wisyanski and Andrew Jotko, both of Monessen.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows in the Most Holy Name of Jesus Church on Tuesday, Aug. 6, at 9 o'clock in the morning. The Rev. Augustine Stevko was the celebrant for the nuptial high mass.

Serving as the maid of honor was Lillian Wisyanski. Best man for the bridegroom was Joseph Reda.

The bride wore a ballerina length pink dress styled with a fitted bodice, V neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching picture hat and other accessories of pink and carried a white Prayer Book topped with a white orchid.

The honor attendant also selected a pink ensemble with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Wedding Breakfast

After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride by her sisters Mrs. Rose Godla and Mrs. Carl Hupchick.

Throughout the remainder of the day the couple received friends and relatives informally. Music for dancing was furnished by Joe Lipresti and his band.

Out of town guests were present from Masontown, Millvale, Aliquippa, Monroeville, Imperial, Whitney, United and area towns. Approximately 150 guests attended.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Jotko left for a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. When they return they will make their home at 666 Braddock Ave., Monessen.

Hungarian Group Sets Activities At Session

The Hungarian Ladies Auxiliary met last evening at the hall on Seneca St. President Irene Wisyanski was in charge, and the session opened with the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance.

Elizabeth Marineck, secretary and Catherine Hazy, treasurer, gave routine reports.

Plans were made for a corn roast on Tuesday at 6 p. m. for members and guests at the hall. Mrs. Wilma Dolinsky will be chairman.

A card party was planned for Sept. 3 with Catherine Hazy as the chairmman.

Wilma Dolinsky presented the auditor's report.

Those observing August birthdays were presented with handkerchiefs. They were Mildred Bizaha, Mary Lenart and Elizabeth Weibl.

The evening award was won by Barbara Fogel.

A social hour was arranged by a committee headed by Elizabeth Marineck assisted by Mary Lenart, Mary Lastoka, Anna Matta and Helen Kuchmeroski.

Shirley Gay Sotta Weds J. W. Lenhart

Shirley Gay Sotta and James W. Lenhart were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony in Christ Lutheran Church of Charleroi, Saturday, Aug. 10, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Rev. Charles Zacher heard the exchange of vows. Summer garden flowers and ferns decorated the church altar and the aisle was lined with white crash. Family pews were indicated with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Sotta, of 306 Washington, Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lenhart, Sr., of 579 Highland Ave., North Charleroi.

George Spiegel played a prelude of organ selections, and the soloist, W. Joseph Jacobs, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a chapel length gown of white embroidered tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was styled with short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The skirt was bouffant in fashion.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a white Prayer Book, a gift of her mother, topped with a white orchid and fleur d'amour.

Maid of honor was Martha J. Clutter, who wore a ballerina length gown of pink nylon chiffon over taffeta with a matching cummerbund, scoop neckline and cap sleeves. Her flowers were blue asters in a colonial bouquet. She wore a pink band and brief veil in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Judy Ban and Marcia Lucas, of Monongahela, cousins of the bride. They wore blue gowns similar to that worn by the honor attendant, and carried bouquets of pink asters.

John M. Lenhart, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Jack E. Fayah and Jack Kirschner, cousins of the bridegroom and bride respectively.

Grandmothers There

Mrs. Sotta, mother of the bride, wore a pink chiffon and lace dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore pink lace over taffeta with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

The groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jacob Evansky, of Charleroi, and the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Molinaro, of Fairhope, were present Both wore rosebud corsages with their ensembles.

Dinner and a reception were held in the Turner Hall at Monongahela. Guests attended from Clairton, McKeesport, Monessen, Charleroi, Monongahela, Belle Vernon, Tarentum, Butler, Washington, D. C. and Cleveland, Ohio. There were 400 in attendance.

A four tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table.

Later the couple left for a Miami, Fla. wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Charleroi High School and is employed at the Thrift and Loan Co., Charleroi. Her husband is attending the University of Pittsburgh and will receive a degree in Business Administration in February.

Temporarily the couple will live at the Sotta home.

Cynthia Peckyno Is Baptized at St. Mary's Church

Cynthia Marie Peckyno, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Peckyno, of 128 Schoonmaker Ave., was baptized on Sunday at St. Mary Greek Catholic Church. The rites were performed by the Rev. Andrew D. Parvensky.

Mrs. Frank Herman, of Baltimore, Md., the former Marie Melissas was the godmother for the baby. Godfather was John Peckyno, brother of the baby's father.

Dinner was served following the ceremony, and the guest list included the godparents and grandparents of the baby. Members of the immediate families were received later in the evening at open house.

Cynthia Marie was presented with many gifts.

Patricia Scales, Bride-elect of Robert Sanders

Mrs. Golda Scales, of Donner Ave., is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Patricia Ann to Robert L. Sanders. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Sanders, of Taylor's Run Rd., Monongahela.

The couple is planning a December wedding.

Mr. Sanders was stationed in Hawaii with the U. S. Army for 18 months.

Recreation Board Deserves Credit

Monessen's City Recreation Department deserves a big hand for the fine program conducted here this and every summer but especially do they need to be congratulated for the picnic held Wednesday, which climaxed the year's activities. It was a perfect affair with oodles of food followed by an interesting program of sports activities. The Recreation Department wishes to go o record as publicly thanking the local Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce and all others who aided the program. Frederic Feldman and Tom D'Errico, directors, both wish to express their appreciation. Activities at all playground areas and at the Civic Center will terminate on Tuesday, Aug. 15. The Center and gym will reopen in October.

Grid Ticket Prices Up at Rostraver

Football ticket prices are going up at Rostraver. General admission seats for varsity games this season will be hiked from 75 cents to a $1. Students will continue to pay 25 cents . . Incidentally, the Leps have set aside October 10 as Parents night. North Huntingdon will be the attraction that evening . . . Rostraver will open its season at Ellsworth, then play five games in a row at home. Although Coach Wade Bender isn't moaning, the prospects aren't too bright for the Leps. But maybe they'll spring a surprise.

Today's Sports Parade—

AAU Secretary Recalls Many Sports Thrills

By DAN FERRIS
Secretary-Treasurer AAU

NEW YORK (UP) — During my 50 years association with amateur sport, I have witnessed many thrilling performances. To enumerate all of them would consume more space than has been allowed for today's column.

The Olympic Games, as might be expected, have produced many of these spine - tingling performances which remain as vivid in my memory now as the day they were made. The Olympic Games in Stockholm, in 1912, probably because it was my first Olympics, made a lasting impression on me and the 800-meter race at those games gave me one of my greatest thrills.

The U.S. had qualified Mel Sheppard of New York, the favorite to win; Ira Davenport of the Chicago AA; Dave Caldwell, the Byfield, Mass. farmer; Hec Edmundson, who recently retired as track coach at the University of Washington; H. N. Putnam of Cornell University and James E. (Ted) Meredith, the Mercersburg Academy schoolboy star (at that time each country was permitted to enter and start 12 representatives).

Picked To Set Pace

Hans Braun, the great German middle-distance runner, was regarded as our most dangerous rival. Mike Murphy, the coach of the U.S. team, had selected Meredith to set the pace. However, Sheppard and Meredith agreed between them that the one getting the best start would go out and set the pace. This happened to be Sheppard and he set a fast pace for the first 400 meters and here Meredith moved up and took over the pace with Braun on his shoulder.

Meredith was expecting Sheppard to come on and pass him rounding the last turn but he found himself in the lead with 100 meters to go. Instead of Sheppard it was the German, Braun, who tried to pass him in the home stretch. This was an unexpected change in the plans. If Sheppard had come up on Meredith's shoulder at that point, he would have allowed him to pass as Ted considered him the best man in the race. However, he made up his mind that he would not let Braun pass him and he didn't.

As a result, Meredith raced across the finish line in first place in world record time. The final spurt by Sheppard and Davenport carried them past Braun and they finished second and third. That was a race full of thrills from start to finish as it was not run according to plans.

My greatest thrill at the Olympic Games in Melbourne last year was Tom Courtney's victory in the 800-meter race. When Tom took the lead I relaxed, believing he would not be overtaken before crossing the finish line. I guess Courtney felt the same way about it at that time.

However, the situation changed almost immediately as Derek Johnson, the fine British halfmiler, started his sprint and passed Arnie Sowell of the U.S. and then Courtney. This was a most exciting moment. My heart started thumping as I sat up in my bed to get a better view.

Fayette City Rally Ties New Eagle, 3-3

Muckle Triples, Scores Tying Run On Sacrifice in 7th

Fayette City rallied in the final frame to tie New Eagle, 3-3, in the third game of their best-of-five game series at Fayette City last night.

New Eagle had built up a lead of 2-0 in the series. The next game between the two rivals will be at Fayette City Monday evening at 5:30 o'clock.

Last night, Fayette City went ahead in the second inning 2-1, only to have New Eagle rally for a 3-2 margin in the fifth which the visitors held until the last of the seventh when Fayette City Manager Harry Muckle tripled. Hal Livingston promptly lifted a sacrifice fly to score the Legionnaire pilot with the tying marker.

Steve Lomago with help from Jess Leach (NE) and Ron Young of Fayette City matched six-hitters, Young fanned eight batters.

Four doubles were blasted out in the game, one each by Fred Cox and Lomago of New Eagle and Young and Livingston of Fayette City.

Tonight Perry visits Charleroi with their series standing at 1-1.

Ravens, PNA in Playoffs

PNA and the Ravens both gained playoff berths last night with victories in City Softball League play here last night.

In fact the victories, PNA over league-leading Cro-Ams 4-3 and the Ravens over ULBA 8-5, forced a three-way tie for third place and it was decided at a league meeting to have five-teams in the playoffs this season for the first time in City League history. Italian Hall is the third team tied for third.

Thus the five playoff teams are the three mentioned as tied for third, the Cro-Ams and Myfords.

The playoff card calls for Italian Hall and the Ravens meeting Monday night at Ninth Street Park in a best-of-three series. PNA drew a bye and will meet the winner of the Italian Hall-Ravens series. Myfords, second place winner, and the first place Cro-Ams will be idle.

Ninth Street Park

All playoff games will be played at Ninth St. Park with game time set for 6 o'clock each evening, beginning Monday.

In last night's first game, PNA took a 4-0 first inning lead and held on while the Cro-Ams scored two in the fifth and one in the sixth to come within one run of tying. It was only the second loss this season for the leaders. Adamczyk was the winning hurler, Crisi the loser. Kunsa getting a double for the losers, the only extra base blow of the game. He also clubbed a single as he and Teska of the winners were the only batters to garner more than one safe blow.

The second game saw the Ravens take a 6-0 second inning margin and hold off ULBA at 6-5 until the fifth when the Ravens scored one and again in the seventh when another crossed for the winners. Gallo blasted a homer for the Ravens, A. Matozzi a triple and Schilling a double for the ULBA entry, the only extra base blows of the game. J. Kunka was the winning hurler, despite nine bases on balls, Schilling the loser.

TCSL Protests 'Out'; Roscoe-Monon Series

It'll be Roscoe and Monongahela for the Tri-County Softball League title.

That was decided last night when Roscoe defeated Pricedale, 7-4 in the second game of their best-of-three series to take the series, 2-0, and a ruling was handed down eliminating Monessen CIO.

The ruling stated that protests filed by both Monongahela and Monessen in a 3-2 game Wednesday would not be upheld. Monongahela had protested against lack of pitching block at Ninth Street Park but the umpires last night, in making a ruling, stated that the protest should have been made after hurling to the first batter and not after pitching to four batters and trailing, 1-0.

As to the Monessen ruling on a runner being given only one base on a play on the runner at the bag and an overthrow, it was ruled that the runner "faked" a run from second to third and therefore was entitled to only third on the overthrow. The 3-2 score thus stands giving Monongahela the series.

Playoffs start Monday night at Monongahela's PONY League field for the championship. Game time is 6 o'clock.

Three Midgets 11s' Register, Practice

Three, local, Midget League grid teams have announced either registrations or opening drills.

The Jefferson entry will begin practicing Monday at 5 o'clock at Ninth Street Park.

The Lincoln team will report Saturday at noon at Ninth Street Park, to Coach Dale Simpson.

Alex Kachmarik's Franklin team will register and practice Monday at 6 o'clock at City Park.

All gridders must have parent consent slips before they can begin drilling with their respective teams.

Midgets Score On 'Kickoff'

Monessen's Midget Football League "kicked off" for the 1957 season with a dinner meeting at Celapino's Restaurant last night and from the "after-dinner" remarks, the league "scored a touchdown" in its first '57 effort.

Over 40 coaches, assistants, league officials and guests attended the meeting.

Gifts were awarded the coaches for their fine work last season. The head mentors honored included Bucky Lurles of the champion Vocationals. Alex "Moonie" Katchmarik, of the Frank-Lins, Carmen DeMarco of the Jeffersons and Dale Simpson of the Lincoln entry.

Stephen Pfeister, chairman of the City Recreation Board, capably emceed a program of speaking which included, Dr. Joseph Pallone, Monessen superintendent of schools, Dr. M. W. Heatter, league physician, league officers, coaches, assistant coaches, directors, Commissioner Armand Niccolai, Boots Salotti (for the officials), the officials' advisor Bill Parkinson, Sr., the ground-keeper, Lou Kuchinko, (the "press-man" for the league), and Clair Brown, sports editor of The Daily Independent.

Several officials from nearby communities who donated their services to the league last season were introduced including George Kuvinka of California and Tony Russo of Newell.

All of the speakers marveled at the manner in which the local Midget League was operated.

Allen Kline, city editor of The Independent, is president of the league.

Steelers Drop Two From Squad

OLEAN, N.Y. (UP)—Two Pittsburgh Steeler hopefuls were dropped from the roster while a new aspirant arrived in camp Thursday.

Linebacker Embry Robinson of Pittsburgh and fullback Ralph Palone of New Castle were dropped from the squad. The newcomer was a Steeler draft of several seasons ago, Ed Merchant, of Miami, Ohio. Merchant returned from military service.

Two drills were held in preparation for the upcoming exhibition game Saturday night against the Chicago Bears in Jacksonville, Fla.

The Steelers departed from Buffalo today for the flight south.

Majors' 24-Hour Recall Doomed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — The long-standing agreement whereby major league clubs have been able to farm players out to minor league teams and then recall them on 24 hours notice appeared headed for doom today.

The elimination of this agreement will be made to major league club owners at their annual winter meeting later this year.

The proposal was agreed to by farms directors of the 16 major league teams meeting here with presidents of the minor loop teams. The two-day session ended Thursday with the adoption of the recommendation.

If the proposal is adopted by the major league baseball executives it will stop big-league clubs from farming out players and then recalling them before the minor-league season ends.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Freezing in Clutch

The inexperienced tournament golfer might start getting "cold feet" when he reaches the final holes of a match with things very close. And what can be worse than not being able to produce at a time like that?

The best advice I can give to the player in this tight spot is to think of success instead of failure. Determine to give it your best effort and assume that luck is just as apt to be on your side as on your opponent's.

Remember, too, that the player you're up against is in the same spot and will likely be feeling the same qualms. Make him feel them more strongly. Stick your next shot in there as close as you can —and give him something to worry about!

Don't start thinking ahead to what will happen if your shot is a bad one. Instead, stay with your present shot and consider the possibility of its being a good one.

Four Undefeated In ABA Tourney At Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Philadelphia, Baltimore, Brooklyn and Milford, Mass., were undefeated going into today's competition in the 11th annual All-American Amateur Baseball Association tournament.

Host team Johnstown joined Pittsburgh, Allentown, Pa., New York, Holyoke, Mass., Schenectady, N. Y., Maryland State and New Orleans on the list of teams eliminated after second and third round play in the double elimination tourney.

In second round games, Philadelphia downed Allentown, 7-6; Milford defeated New Orleans, 11-8; Bessemer, Ala., eliminated Johnstown, 13-2; Zanesville, Ohio, ousted New York, 6-1; Buffalo eliminated Holyoke, 5-4; Pittsburgh eliminated Schenectady, 10-5; Brooklyn edged defending champion Washington, 3-2, and Baltimore shut out Maryland State 13-0.

In third round games, Buffalo eliminated Allentown, 11-1; Zanesville eliminated Maryland State, 9-1; Washington eliminated Pittsburgh, 14-1, and Bessemer ousted New Orleans, 10-8.

Philadelphia pushed across four runs in the last frame to edge Allentown. A squeeze bunt by Joe Corbe brought home the winning tally.

JOCKEY BREAKS ANKLE

DEL MAR, Calif. (UP)—Jockey James Wood, 20, suffered a broken right ankle Thursday when his mount, Vancel, fell during the running of the first race at Del Mar. Wood, of Blackfoot, Idaho, was unseated when Vancel crashed into the railing and fell to the ground.

Niccolai Greets 37 for Physicals; More to Report

Monessen High School grid mentor Armand Niccolai greeted only 37 candidates for physical examinations yesterday at the Vocational School here but stated "there are more to report".

"Nick" explained that due to some of the boys having summer employment which they will wind up this week, they were unable to report Thursday but will undoubtedly be on hand for the opening drills Monday.

Dr. M. W. Heatter eamined those reporting yesterday and Niccolai immediately began issuing equipment.

Bright and early Monday morning the grid drills will begin at the Stadium and the Stadium Annex.

The 'Hound coach and his staff will have only a little over three weeks to prepare the squad for the opener with Windber away on September 14.

After Windber comes Monongahela, Uniontown, Hempfield Joint, Brownsville, Redstone. Johnstown, Charleroi, Duquesne and the finale with Donora away.

Niccolai has lost an assistant coach in Nick Chomko but will have Joe Gladys, Harry McCurdy, Andy Kuzemka and Al Romasco assisting him. The junior high squad will be handled by Romasco.

Last season the Greyhounds posted an impressive 8-2 mark in 10 games, losing only to Trinity in an upset and Charleroi in a thriller.

Most of last year's talented squad has graduated so Niccolai and his staff have their work cut out for them.

Competitors Tee Off in WP Quarter-finals

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Eight competitors teed off today in the quarter-finals of the West Penn Amateur Golf championship at Allegheny Country Club.

In Thursday's play, Sam Musico of Chartiers defeated defending champion Jim Curti of Churchill Valley, 2 and 1, and then took Jack Mahaffey of Oakmont, 1 up.

Fred Paine, 31, of Oakmont Country Club, the medalist, slammed his way to a 1-up victory over Ray Moffat of Duquesne and then beat Lou Kumer of Churchill Valley, 3 and 2.

Dick Semple of Allegheny who shot an 80 in the qualifying round, came back strong to trounce Jack Chivers of Mt. Lebanon, 8 and 6, and then beat George Aubrey, Aliquippa, 5 and 3.

In today's matches, Paine faced Steve Savor of Cheswick, Semple opposed Richie Manns, 19-year-old Notre Dame student, Musico faced Milton (Mickey) Steiner of Baldoc Hills and Bob Reilly of Highland met Harry Gray of Shannopin.

W. H. Sharp Cops MVCC 'Prexy's' Cup

MONONGAHELA, Aug. 16—W. H. Sharp fired a 38 on the last nine holes yesterday to defeat John Karnack, 4 and 3, and win the president's trophy at Monongahela Valley Country Club.

Sharp had a 45 on the first nine holes, with Karnack netting a 43. But Sharp came back with his 38 on the last nine, while Karnack shot an 80.

Karnack earlier had defeated Ed Betus, 4 and 3.

An invitational mixed two-ball foursome will be held Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Pollock are in charge of events. On the committee are Mr. and Mrs. W. Floyd Drummon, W. L. Hart Jr., Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hutchison, Miss Mary L. Perri and Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Sickman.

Fayette 'Stars' Hold Off Wash Rally, Win, 27-20

Fayette County's All-Star team went two games ahead of Washington County last night in their all-star grid series, grinding out a 27-20 verdict over the locals before a throng of nearly 6,000 at Washington High Stadium.

Although visibly the stronger and more cohesive team (as attested by its 15-5 bulge in first downs), Fayette had its hands full in the waning moments with a doughty Washington squad that scored twice in the final two minutes to pare its deficit to a respectable seven points.

Jerry Matty, a slick ball-handler from Perry-Lower Tyrone, engineered a smooth-functioning split-T attack that found Fayette scoring on the second scrimmage play of the game, adding a pair in the second stanza and the clincher in the fourth.

Fayette gained 230 rushing and 36 passing. Washington netted 104 rushing and 47 passing.

Score by Periods

Fayette	7	13	7	0	—27
Washington	8	0	0	13	—20

Touchdowns: Fayette — R. Baker, Matty, Benke, Forrai; Washington — D. Baker, Demshar, Wise. Conversions: Fayette — Forrai 3, (placements): Washington — Jackman 2 (placements).

Rademacher Bout Tabbed Top 'Mismatch'

By RAY ANDREWS

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (UP) — The day Pete Rademacher came here to begin training he rode beneath a banner stretched across the main street.

It read "Welcome Pete Rademacher. New heavyweight champ."

The sentiment was in considerable conflict with other opinion. For instance that of Nat Fleischer, editor of the Ring magazine, who views amateur Rademacher taking on heavyweight titleholder Floyd Patterson as "the greatest mismatch in the history of boxing."

Be that as it may, Rademacher calmly is going about preparations for the Aug. 22 fight. His workout gym is the barnlike Town Hall of the town of 18,000 at the foothills of the Cascade Mountains. The building, which features an old-fashioned pot-bellied stove, is also used for town dances.

Loggers Watch Practice

Rademacher's camp is charging the unusual sum of 99 cents to see the 1956 Olympic champ work out. Among the spectators are hard-fisted, heavy drinking loggers in from the timberlands.

This fight has many unusual aspects.

One is that there will be no judges "to confuse the issue." There will be only a referee, Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion who retired in 1937 If the fight goes 15 rounds he will decide the winner. He may also stop it before then.

Promoter for the fight in Seattle's Sicks Stadium is Jack Hurley who has been in the game since the early 1920s. A lean, sharp-featured man in his 60s, Hurley is quick spoken and quick thinking. He sometimes wears a pince-nez and is known as "the professor."

In past years he has been more manager than promoter. He managed Harry (Kid) Matthews and, during attempts to get Matthews a shot at the heavyweigh title, spewed such invective at the International Boxing Club that it found its way into the Congressional Record.

Hurley's greatest disappointment was heavyweight contender Lem Franklin. After 19 straight wins, Franklin was beaten by Bob Pastor in 1942. In a 1944 fight, Franklin suffered a brain concussion and died a few days later.

Hurley is predicting a gate around $400,000 with a full crowd in the 25,000-seat stadium at prices of $20, $15 and $10.

It will take receipts of $416,866 for Rademacher's Georgia backers to break even. They put up a $250,000 guarantee to get Patterson to fight. The match will not be televised nor broadcast.

Braves' Bedraggled Pursuers Must Match Giants' '51 Finish

By FRED DOWN

The National League's chances of heading off Milwaukee's pennant express rested today on the forlorn hope that one of the Braves' bedraggled pursuers can match the 1951 Giants' "miracle finish."

The Braves just about completed "operation wrapup" Thursday night when they crushed the Cincinnati Redlegs, 8-1, to run their winning streak to 10 games and their first-place lead to 8½. Hank Aaron drove in five runs with his 33rd and 34th homers, and Warren Spahn spun an eight-hitter as the Braves whipped the Redlegs for the 14th time in 16 meetings.

That 8½-game lead with only 41 games to play places the Braves in almost exactly the same position as were the 1951 Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers led by nine games with 41 to play that year only to have the Giants win 30 of their last 36 games and then win the resulting playoff on Bobby Thomson's famous home run.

Contenders Collapsing

The major difference in the corresponding positions of the '57 Braves and '51 Dodgers is that the "miracle Giants" had already begun to make their move while all the current "contenders" are in a state of virtual collapse. The St. Louis Cardinals have lost 9 in a row, the Dodgers have dropped 7 of their last 10, the Redlegs have lost 8 of their last 12 and the Philadelphia Phillies 10 of their last 13.

Aaron, who had hit only .271 in the previous 15 games with the Redlegs, rent the Braves' winging with a three-run homer off Hal Jeffcoat in the first inning and then blasted a two-run homer off Don Gross in the seventh. Aaron, shooting for the NL's first triple crown since 1937, now leads the majors with 34 homers and 93 runs batted in and holds a one-point lead over Stan Musial, .334 to .333, in the league batting race.

Spahn, beating the Redlegs for the fifth straight time this season and the 44th time in his career, yielded an unearned run in the second inning on Don Hoak's double, an error by Aaron and Johnny Temple's single. Ed Mathews and rookie Bob Hazle also homered for the Braves, who have socked Cincinnati pitching for a .304-team batting average in the 16 games.

Moe Drabowsky pitched a six-hitter for the Chicago Cubs, whose 4-1 victory extended the Cardinals' losing streak to their longest since 1947. Dale Long and Chuck Tanner homered behind Drabowsky, who struck out seven while notching his ninth win. Sam Jones was tagged with his seventh defeat and his third during the Cardinals' losing skein.

Light-hitting catcher Valmy Thomas knocked in four runs with a homer and triple to lead the Giants to a 9-4 conquest of the Dodgers. Ramon Monzant received credit for his first win although Red Worthington held the Dodgers hitless over the last three innings. Don Drysdale suffered his 7th loss compared to 10 victories. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

The New York Yankees regained a 5½-game lead in the American League when they beat the Boston Red Sox 6-3, and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox, 5-4. The Kansas City Athletics downed the Detroit Tigers, 7-2, in the other game.

Turley Wins 10th

Gil McDougald's two-run eighth-inning homer was the big blow for the Yankees as Bob Turley won his 10th game with relief aid from Bob Grim. Ted Williams had two of the Red Sox' nine hits to raise his average to .393 while Mantle went hitless in two tries and dropped to .380.

Chico Fernandez' grand-slam homer in the sixth inning enabled the Indians to snap their six-game losing streak and Chicago's three-game winning skein. Don Mossi went all the way to win his ninth game while Jack Harshma suffered his seventh defeat.

Billy Hunter had a single, double and triple and Billy Martin and Woody Held each homered to spark an 11-hit Kansas City attack that tagged 14-game winner Jim Bunning with his fifth loss. Johnny Groth and Harvey Kuenn each had two hits for Detroit.

Bragan Proves He's Prophet In Mag Article

NEW YORK (UP)—Bobby Bragan, the ex-Pittsburgh pilot, proves he is something of a prophet in an article entitled "Managers Get It In The Neck" to be published Sunday.

Bragan provided United Press sports Writer Milton Richman with the material for the article, to appear in This Week Magazine, more than a month ago and hinted even then that he expected to be fired.

Commenting on the numerous major league managerial changes, Bragan told Richman, "My own Pittsburgh Pirates have had three changes in ten years. Average tenure is not much over two years —and I'm in my second year."

Bragan said that "when the fans stop supporting a losing team, the front office will often change managers. That has a soothing effect on the paying public, temporarily anyway."

The former Pirate skipper said he thought Casey Stengel, Paul Richards, Leo Durocher and Birdie Tebbetts were the best managers in baseball.

"Sure, managers suffer," Bragan declared. "But I'm not going to quit. Big league managers do. They get fired."

Married Life Must Agree for Jay Peake Breaks Three Marks

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UP)—Married life must agree with Jay Peake of Charleroi, Pa., the new National Field Archery Association champion.

The 1 8-year-old Pennsylvania youth, who was married only a month ago, broke three records in the difficult instinctive men's division during the four-day competition which concluded Thursday.

Peake's new marks were established in the hunters, big game and field rounds. He wound up with an aggregate score of 2,747.

Gordon S. Lock of San Francisco finished second with 2,672 and defending champion Leslie Speakes of Garden Grove, Calif., was third with 2,557.

In the men's freestyle division, Robert Rhode of Minneapolis, Minn., finished first with 2,741 Ruben Powell of Chula Vista, Calif., who held the title for the last four years, was third with 2,732

Mrs. Merle Wimer of Marlington, W. Va., outclassed defending champion Frances Lozon of Marine City, Mich., in the women's division while Ann Marston of Wyandotte, Mich., finished first in the women's freestyle event.

Esther Thompson, New Castle, Pa., won the hunters-women national championship and Mona Guth of Fryburg, Pa., the instinctive women bowmen title.

John Gabriel, Olean, N.Y., won the junior boys' instinctive with 1946.

Bucs Meet Bums At Jersey City

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, holding a four-game winning streak, meet third-place Brooklyn tonight in a single game at Jersey City.

The other three games in the series, a single game Saturday and a doubleheader Sunday, will be played at Ebbets Field.

Bob Purkey (10-9) is scheduled to pitch in tonight's contest against Johnny Podres (9-5)

The Pirates were idle Thursday.

Rider Thrown, Comes Back to Finish 4th

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UP) — Fourteen-year-old Patty Miller finished fourth in the third race at the Greene County Fair Thursday after being thrown from her mount in the trip to the gate.

New Photo Device To Trap Speeders

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania law enforcement officials yesterday viewed a special demonstration of an electronic "foto patrol" device designed to trap highway speeders with photographic evidence.

The device, invented by Leon Pearle, 51, 2520 Webb Ave., Bronx, N.Y., was set up on a downtown street in front of the state Capitol here. The machine automatically photographed the license plates of cars which exceeded a set speed.

However, officials threw cold water on the scheme, for both practical and economic reasons.

O. D. Shipley, director of the Highway Safety Bureau, said the machine's estimated $3,000 cost was about twice the price of a complete radar set to detect speed violators.

He also pointed out the use of film would not be practical in nabbing out-of-state violators, who must be fined on the spot before leaving the Commonwealth.

Shipley has advocated legalizing radar in Pennsylvania for use by state police.

State Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland), an outspoken opponent of radar, said the "foto patrol" was "very much untested, as is radar."

Wade allowed proposed legislation to legalize radar and electronic devices for use by law enforcement officers to die in a state Senate committee during the past session of the General Assembly.

Spare-time inventor Pearle contends his machine is "vastly superior" to radar because it produces pictoral evidence. He said the pictures were admitted as court evidence in Port Washington, N.Y. last year in traffic violation cases.

He said no state has purchased his device as yet.

Pearle, an attorney, said since 1948 he poured about $100,000 in developing the device. "This is a crusade to save lives and cut down the deadly holocaust on our highways," he said.

"Foto Patrol" automatically snaps a flash picture of any speeding automobile as it crosses two metal strips laid across the highway. The photograph, taken at 1-1,800th of a second on 35 millimeter film, shows the auto vehicle, its speed, the date, time and place. It can take five pictures per minute.

Standing Committees Are Named by Band Boosters

The Bellmarette Band Boosters met on Tuesday evening in the officers' room of the Belle Vernon Musical Society hall. The vice president, Mrs. Edith Doherty, opened the session in the absence of the retiring president, Mrs. Edith Cook.

After the pledge of allegiance and the Lord's Prayer, there were routine reports. Mrs. Margaret Christopher gave the secretary's and treasurer's report. Mrs. Georgia Naccarato reported on the May activities at the Vernon Junior High School canteen dances. The canteen has not been in operation during the summer months.

Mrs. Doherty then formally assumed her duties as president of the organization for the 1957-58 school term.

The following standing committee appointments were made: Mrs. Robert Scott, membership chairman; Nello Ferrari, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Naccarato and Mrs. Hilda Borsotta, co-chairmen of the canteen committee; Mrs Clara Saitz, visitation of the sick; Mrs. Olga Boyle and Mrs. Lena Salvino, co-chairmen of the social committee.

Nello Ferrari and Robert Scott, who were appointed to discuss the concession stand at the Bellmar Stadium with the Bellmarette Joint School Board, reported that a complete report would be forthcoming from the School Board at a later date.

An effort will be made to have all parents of Bellmar Band members in the entire school district enrolled in the booster group. The next meeting has been planned for Tuesday, Sept. 10.

55 in Attendance At Reunion of Beazell Family

The annual reunion of the Beazell family was held on Sunday at Monessen Park. There were 55 relatives and friends in attendance. Several awards were made during the event.

Walter Bucy traveled the longest distance, from Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the affair; Stella Beazell Shipe, of Charleroi, was the oldest family member attending; Mark Jeffrey, of Charleroi, was the youngest.

During a business session regrets were read from several members of the family, who could not be present. Officers for the year were elected. Harold Beazell, of Charleroi, was elected president, Mrs. James Kahl, of Monongahela, secretary; J. B. Dunlevy, treasurer and Mrs. Enoch Colvin, historian.

The next reunion will be held in August of 1958 at Monessen Park.

A noon meal was served after invocation by Mr. Dunlevy. The business session began with prayer by Mrs. James Heffran, and the event concluded with group singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds".

NEW AIR HOSTESS — Barbara Ann Bulger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Q. Bulger, of Delmont St., Belle Vernon, became a hostess for Capital Airlines recently. She was presented her wings at a luncheon graduation held in Washington, D. C. She is a graduate of Bellmar High School, nd has been assigned by the airlines to fly out of the Chicago station.

Wins Awards at Gladiola Show

Mrs. Marcellus Kunkelman, of Speers Hill, won two first awards in the Eastern International Gladiola Show at Hershey this week. Both were in the miniature class, one was for a three spike bloom, and the second was for a single specimen.

Mrs. Kunkelman, her husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dearth, of Brownsville, and Thomas Dobson, of Broad Ave., Belle Vernon, attended the show, which was one of the largest of its kind ever to be held.

Mr. Dobson, president of the Pennsylvania Gladiolus Society, was the song leader at the banquet held during the event and he also asked the invocation.

Eastern International Show will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, next year.

Jack H. Long, of Belle Vernon, is a patient in the Memorial Hospital at Monongahela.

Housewarming for Sekara Family

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sekara, who recently removed from their home on Ohio St., to a newly constructed residence at 404 Johnson St. were honored at a housewarming on Wednesday evening.

A group of friends and former neighbors comprised the guest list, and the evening was spent in games and other informal entertainment.

The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sekara with a gift of porch furniture and with other gifts.

Luncheon was served at a large table centered with an arrangement of summer garden flowers, a gift of Mrs. Ann Dzylak, of Lynnwood.

The prize of the evening was won by Mrs. Mary Felak, of Speers Hill, and another prize was won by Mrs. Mary Raboci, of Pricedale.

Guests attended from Lynnwood, Fairhope, Pricedale, Speers Hill and Monessen.

Plays Hostess to Happiness Club

Mrs. Edna Rossell, of Main St., was hostess to the members of the Happiness Club at her home yesterday afternoon. Cards were the diversion.

Mrs. Annie Craig was the high prize winner. The high prize last week was won by Elsie Jacobs.

Plans were made to meet next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Annie Trew, of Market St.

Mrs. Rossell served luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Zig Nega, of Belle Vernon R. D., left for a two week trip to Miami, Fla. They also plan to visit in Ft. Lauderdale with George Frich, a brother of Mrs. Nega.

Observes Ninth Birthday with Party at Home

Helen June Paskan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paskan, of 20 Fourth St., observed her ninth birthday anniversary on Wednesday.

In the afternoon 20 little girl friends gathered in the decorated basement of her home for a party. Vari-colored balloons and crepe paper streamers decorated the room where games and contests were enjoyed under the direction of Phyllis Conn. Several prizes were awarded the winners.

Luncheen was served along with a large decorated birthday cake trimmed in pink and white and topped with lighted candles.

Helen June opened her many gifts at the conclusion of the afternoon.

In the evening a family party was held to mark the birthday occasion. There were approximately 20 guests present including aunts, uncles and cousins of the guest of honor. Also present was her grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Mahalko, of Monessen.

Luncheon was served and the honored guest received gifts.

Queens Card Club Meets on Monday

The Eight Queens card club was entertained on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Carol Morgan, of Lynnwood.

Two tables of five hundred were in play. Winning the high score awards were Patty Stimmell, Estelle Roberts and the hostess, who won the floating award.

Luncheon was served at the conclusion of play.

Joseph Caldwell, of Belle Vernon, has been admitted to the Monongahela Memorial Hospital, where he is undergoing medical treatment.

Members of the Senior Court Catholic Daughters of America will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 9 a. m. mass on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Corneilius Ammon, of Belle Vernon R. D., has been admitted to the Monongahela Memorial Hospital

NBV to Employ Two Policewomen

North Belle Vernon Borough Council plans to employ two policewomen to add to the safety measures taken to protect school children. Since the construction of the new super highway spur through the borough this problem has presented itself.

Children living in the Ferncliff Dr. area and other areas across the highway must cross the highway proper at one of two intersections, Wilson or Baltimore Sts., so a policewoman will patrol each of these.

These two women will patrol the intersections from 8 to 9 a. m. and from 1 a. m. to 12:45 p. m.

Andrew Kuhl, borough secretary, has already advertised for applicants for these two positions, which council expects to fill at an adjourned meeting on Aug. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewitt, of Broad Ave., visited last weekend with their son, John, who is stationed at Bainbridge, Md., with the U. S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Clark, of Graham St., accompanied by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Forty, of Monessen, left today to visit in South Plainfield, N. J. with relatives.

New Type Pension Plans Are Based Partly on Buying Power

By ROBERT F. COLL

WASHINGTON (UP) — Retirement - conscious Americans soon may be able to peg their pensions to the buying power of the dollar.

The plan is called the "variable annuity." Its merits have split the conservative insurance industry wide open.

Under the plan the payment received each month by the pensioner would reflect the ups and downs of the economy — hence the "variable" title.

Supporters of the plan are inviting those interested in retirement to hitch their wagons to the soaring economy — and at the same time cushion themselves against boom-born inflation.

The variable annuity works like this:

A person desiring to set up a retirement plan through regular monthly payments would put part of his payment into a straight annuity. This would give him a partly-fixed income on retirement.

The rest of his payment — some companies recommended one-half goes into a mutual investment fund that buys blue-chip common stocks.

The result would be retirement payments made up in part of a fixed return from the straight annuity, plus a varying return from the mutual fund based on how the economy is doing.

Brokers and other securities dealers resent the invasion into the mutual fund field they long have promoted. Many insurance firms feel they have no business in it and warn that the "variable" part of the annuity could sink to almost nothing in a depression.

The mutual fund long has been a boon to the small investor. It pools the investments of many such investors — spreading their holdings over a wide variety of stocks and bonds in a way they never could accomplish on their own.

The opponents of the variable annuity charge there is nothing to bar a retirement - minded person from investing in any of the present mutual funds if he is interested in that type of return.

Behind the controversy are two facts:

Insurance companies are concerned about dwindling returns on their investments — largely because they are sharply restricted by law from participating more fully in the booming market.

There also is a potent tax angle. Each dollar paid in for a fixed income annuity is a dollar earned by the insurance companies and is taxed that way.

But a firm selling variable annuities would only be taxed on that portion of the pay-in that went toward a fixed income. Since it is investing the rest for the annuity holder, it would not be taxed on it.

One Out of Every Two Persons Will Develop Some Type Allergy

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—If misery loves company, the nation's hay fever victims need never be lonesome. Either today, or in the future.

Dr. Max Grolnick, a leading authority on allergies, says "at some time in their lives, one out of every two or three persons develops an allergy."

It is not always a sneezy reaction to pollen, which many a watery-eyed soul is down with at this time of the year. It could be susceptibility to any one of hundreds of things, from paint to perfume, said Grolnick.

Just as disconcerting is the news that allergies, like the poor, we always will have with us despite all the research into the cause and treatment.

Allergies Here Forever

"It would be near perfect living if we had an allergy-free community," said the physician. "But I don't think we'll ever make it... new allergies develop with new chemicals, new drugs. And for every one we whip, we discover another."

Grolnick is in charge of the allergy division of the Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn, and clinical associate professor of medicine at the State University College of Medicine, Brooklyn. The division for 34 years has done research in and treatment of susceptibilities.

"There are two general types of allergies," Grolnick explained. "One is inherited...a predisposition, I call it. This often is the case with an infant's eczema. The other is acquired, through contact Poison ivy is a good sample of this type."

The most common allergy of all is hay fever. But Grolnick added, "that's a misnomer...there is neither hay nor fever involved." Hay fever is a nasal rebellion against pollen from trees, grass or ragweed. Grolnick figures three to five per cent of the population suffers from it.

Molds are another common cause of allergy. These prosper in any damp area. Other common allergies are bronchial asthma, although Grolnick said it sometimes has other causes; the eczemas; food susceptibilities; reactions to metals, soaps and paints.

And women often prove sensitive to cosmetics, nylons, hair dyes and bleaches, he said.

Grolnick doubts if we think ourselves into allergies. In the big circle of causes, he explained, "the psychosomatic may be a spoke. But there are also the glandular and metabolic factors."

Grolnick classes an allergist as a "detective." Sometimes, he said, finding the clue to the affliction takes some real Sherlock Holmesing.

One of his toughest cases was that of a woman patient who was on a sneezing jag, but didn't react to pollen. His researchers finally decided rabbit hair was at fault.

"But where she was in contact with the hair required some more detective work," said the physician. "We finally ran it down... She carried a key ring, with a good luck piece attached. It was a rabbit's foot."

Japanese to Probe Death of Woman

TOKYO (UP)—The cabinet ordered a full-scale investigation today of the freak collision two weeks ago of a U.S. Air Force plane and a bicycle, which caused the death of a Japanese woman.

The light plane, piloted by Lt. John L. Gordon, of Erie, Pa., had just taken off from the Mito gunnery range 70 miles north-northeast of Tokyo when it suddenly lost altitude, apparently because of defective flaps.

The plane's tail dropped so low that the tail wheel dragged along the ground for several yards. It hit a bicycle belonging to a Japanese farmer, injuring him and killing his 63-year-old mother, who was riding with him.

There appeared to be little likelihood of the accident developing into a new "Girard case." Japanese newspapers predicted today the government will rule that it was "accidental homicide in line of duty," leaving any action against Gordon up to the U.S. military courts.

French Writer Charges Arabs Are Tortured

PARIS (UP)—A well - known writer who recently toured Algeria charged today that French troops and police there are torturing and sometimes killing Arab prisoners.

Louis Martin-Chauffier's charges were printed by the Socialist weekly Demain.

"A large number of persons arrested in roundups or investigations are released immediately," Martin said. "Others are handed over to the legal authorities for trial . . . (but) police or soldiers hold many suspects for days, weeks and even months without notifying anyone in authority.

"Sometimes the questioning is so harsh that the victim dies of it, or in some instances a prisoner who survives the ordeal cannot be allowed to live to tell the tale. In either case, he disappears without leaving a trace.

Arrest Youth in Anti U. S. Plot

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UP)—Police have arrested a Jordanian youth in an alleged Egyptian plot to blow up the U.S. Embassy, officials announced today.

They said Mohammed Abdul Ghani, 18, discovered loitering outside the embassy Thursday night, confessed he and a Syrian youth were hired by members of the Egyptian Embassy in Damascus to survey the American Embassy in Beirut for a planned bombing.

Assign Scientist to Produce Soil Map

A "soil map" will be developed soon for Westmoreland and Fayette Counties, according to Ivan McKeever, of the State Soil Conservation Service. McKeever said today that David Taylor, of Greensburg, has been assigned to produce such a map.

Taylor, a soil scientist, has been in charge of similar projects in Erie County since 1954

He is a graduate of the University of West Virginia and has worked with the Soil Conservation Service since 1934. Most of his early work was done in West Virginia and in Lehigh, Berks, Union and Northumberland counties.

Taylor will develop maps which will show the kinds of soils located in Westmoreland and Fayette Counties. In making the map, he will go over the land, acre by acre, making borings into the soil to a depth of three feet His findings will be recorded on an aerial photo of the area being surveyed

This survey provides information about soil depth, soil drainage, soil erosion, slope of the land and the productivity of the soil.

All of this information is used by the Soil Conservation Service technicians to assist in the conservation farm plans In addition, business, industry and private agencies make use of the survey. Loan agencies, real estate and road builders also find the information helpful.

Bandits Get $200 In Uniontown Theft

UNIONTOWN, Pa (UP) — Two gunmen, identifying themselves as "Mason Dixon" and "Mr. Roberts" robbed the ABC Credit Inc office of about $200 in cash Wednesday

Police said the bandits, one short and stocky and the other tall and lean, bound and gagged the manager and a secretary after flashing a 23 caliber revolver The gunmen also took a $70 watch from the secretary, Dorothy Zakaria.

Americans Are Showing Signs of Sales Resistance

WASHINGTON (UP)—Government economists report signs that Americans are putting up greater sales resistance to high prices.

The observation was made in a Commerce Department report showing that business continued to boom during July.

The report, issued Thursday night, estimated that the gross national product—the nation's total output of goods and services — amounted to an annual rate of $434 500,000,000 at the close of the year's second quarter on June 30.

This was five billion dollars higher than in the January-March quarter and $2,500,000 above the second quarter last year.

The department said, however, the rise "seems to have been associated with increases in prices."

The Commerce Department said that, on the basis of July figures, the estimated annual rate of income of Americans was at an all-time high of $435,500,000,000.

The department saw signs that Americans are showing greater buyer resistance to high prices in the fact that business inventories continued to rise in the second quarter, despite a recent trend by industry to avoid over-stocking.

Stuck with Gems

WASHINGTON (UP) — Industrial diamond importers have complained to Congress they are stuck with 25 million dollars worth of surplus industrial diamonds. They said the government halted buying the stones for its reserve stockpile without warning them.

Army Perfects Rocket

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army has scored an important technological triumph in its race to beat Russia to the punch in perfecting long and intermediate range ballistic missiles, it was learned.

Informed sources said Thursday night an Army rocket fired several hundred miles high withstood tremendous friction and did not disintegrate in striking back into the earth's atmosphere.

It was reported that the nose cone of the three-stage rocket, which sped a distance of 1,200 miles, plunged into the Atlantic Ocean a mere 400 yards from its target.

This performance was described as "phenomenal" for such weapons, which can carry atomic warheads.

The third stage of the rocket, which one source reported travelled at a speed of 15,000 miles an hour, was recovered.

Previous reported speeds for test rockets were 9,000 to 12,000 miles an hour.

Re-entry of a high speed rocket into the atmosphere without disintegrating has been one of the most perplexing problems facing scientists.

The temperature at which the nose cone re-entered the atmosphere could have been as much as 20,000 degrese, one source said.

What the material was that can withstand that kind of heat was not revealed. The Army refused to comment on the rocket, fifth in a test series fired at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

Complete Faculty For Coming Term At Perry High

Faculty assignments have been completed for the approaching school year at Perry-Lower Tyrone Joint High.

Supervising Principal G. Edgar Hibbs said the school year will open on Tuesday, Sept. 3, at 1 p. m.

Students, who moved into the district since June 1, will be registered today, Hibbs said.

Appointed as teachers at a recent meeting of the board were: Joseph Lafko, Perryopolis, substitute history teacher replacing Mickey Mucci, who has been granted a military leave of absence for the next two school years; Patricia Shurak, Perryopolis, science, and Mrs. Eva Williams, California, substitute art teacher.

Appointed part-time substitute teachers were: Bert Means, Mrs. Kathryn Cottom, Mrs. Laddie Griglak, Mrs. Regis Serinko, John Strickler and Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin.

Board Representatives

Simon Rider and Joseph Torkish were named official representatives of the board at all meetings with the State School Building Authority after construction of the new building begins. The board will attend the opening of bids for the new building next April 27 at 1 p. m. in Harrisburg.

The calendar as completed by Prin. Hibbs: Sept. 3, school opens; Sept. 26-27, Teachers' Institute; Nov. 11, Veterans' Day; Nov. 28-29, Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 20-Jan. 2, Christmas vacation April 4-7, Easter vacation; May 14, Kennywood Park school picnic; May 30, Memorial Day; June 6, school closes.

VFW Auxiliary Served Lunch

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Perryopolis VFW met on Monday for the regular monthly meeting.

In the absence of president Pauline Timko, the senior vice-president, Bernice Nichols, presided.

Reports were submitted by secretary Lucille Brewer and treasurer Josephine Angelo.

The Auxiliary planned a special project for the near future. After the meeting, members of the VFW surprised the ladies by serving them a lunch.

Commander of the VFW Post is Sam Angelo.

Boy Scouts Spend Week at Camp

Thirty-five Boy Scouts of Troop 1, Perryopolis and Star Junction, spent a week at Camp Conestoga. They were accompanied by assistant scoutmaster P. W. Homer.

Four of the scouts were tapped into "The Order of the Arrow." They were John Komacho, Joe Wolfe Jr., Robert Ramsier and James McCabe.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Davis and son, Davy, of Perryopolis, have returned home after spending ten days vacationing in several southern states. They visited Mississippi, Florida and the Carolinas.

Miss June Rolison is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grove Carroll, McKeesport.

Mr. and Mrs. James Newmeyer and children, James and Pamela, and Mrs. Newmeyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche, of Pittsburgh, are vacationing at Ocean City, N. J.

Mrs. William McCalmont and son, Scotty, of Crafton, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White. Mrs. McCalmont is the former Connie White.

Malicious Driver Forces Car into Train Collision

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UP) — Police searched today for a malicious motorist who deliberately blocked a car from backing out of the way of an oncoming train.

The driver, his wife and son jumped from the stalled vehicle seconds before a Florida East Coast streamliner plowed into it.

Sven Fogelstrom, 61, told police that the driver of the other car apparently became angry when Fogelstrom made a wrong turn at the railroad crossing.

Fogelstrom said he tried to back off the tracks as soon as he realized his error but was blocked by the other vehicle. Then Fogelstrom tried to drive across the tracks, but his engine stalled.

He, his wife, Gertrude, and 10-year-old son, Allwyn, leaped ou of the car. The driver of the other car drove off just before the trai smacked into Fogelstrom's car, demolishing it.

'Cave Men' Guard Records 205 Feet Down

TWENTY-TWO MILES north of Butler, Pa., four "cave men" routinely spend their work days in a former limestone mine 205 feet below the surface of the earth. Their job is to care for some 105,000 boxes filled with records from nearly every Westinghouse Electric corporation plant and office in the United States. They never see the sun while working, and weather changes mean little to them because it's always a comfortable 70 degrees with humidity of 57 per cent down there. The cave has an area of about 42,000 square feet. The mine was worked out in 1940. Its 80 subterranean acres are owned by the National Storage company, which rents space to firms wanting a safe place to store valuables. The "cave men" get requests for records over a teletype system connected with the Pittsburgh offices.

George Kendall places records in proper slot.

Husband Delivers in Emergency

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—A magazine article that stirred up a controversy 20 years ago served as a "do-it-yourself" guide for a young father who brought his second son into the world.

Both mother and son were "doing well," doctors said after Robert C. Thomas performed an emergency delivery early Thursday morning.

"He did a pretty good job," said Dr. Floyd Boyer, the physician who took over where the 21-year-old father left off.

The Life magazine article, which stirred a furor at the time it was published, contained detailed pictures of childbirth taken from the movie "Birth of a Baby." Thomas' mother had stored the article away over the years but gave it to the young couple recently when told they were expecting their second child.

Thomas, head shipper for Columbia Pictures Distributors at Indianapolis, and his wife, Dixie Lou, studied the text and photographs, little realizing they were taking a "practical" course in childbirth.

About 5 a.m. Dixie Lou awakened her husband and informed him she was having labor pains. Thomas said he "didn't pay much attention" at first because he was still groggy.

Program is Outlined by Parent-Teacher Association

The officers and committee members of the Rostraver Parent-Teacher Association held a meeting yesterday at the recreation hall to discuss plans for the new school term, which will begin Tuesday, Sept 3.

The first P. T. A. meeting of the term will be held Sept. 9 at Rostraver High School.

The program for the year has been outlined by the program committee with Mrs. Alice Criss as chairman, assisted by Goldie Daumit, Leona Stewart, Florence Finley and Loretta Suman.

The theme for the year is "Today's Children are the Citizens of Tomorrow".

The theme for September is "Let's Get Acquainted"; October, "Child's Welfare"; November, "Teachers, Moulders of our Future Citizens"; December, "Present and Future Homemakers"; January, "Cub Scouts and Their Leaders in Charge"; February, "Brotherhood. Dream of Our Founders"; March, "Know and Obey Your Health Signs"; April, "Telephone, The Nation at Your Fingertips"; May, "Future Leaders Assume Responsibilities".

Mrs. Eva Altiers, president, was in charge of the meeting. The invocation was presented by Mary Echart. A covered dish dinner was served.

The committees are as follows: membership — Mary Nega, chairman, assisted by Ruth Hamilton, Thelma Kopp, Irlean Dragan and Dorothy Corbett; ways and means — Frances Pasierb, chairman, assisted by Peg Massa, Goldie Perney, Helen Yowanski, Leona Stewart and Kay Yoder; budget — William Dragan, Joe Corbett and Frances Pasierb; lunch — Mary Echart and Dorothy Bush; hospitality — Lena Carson, Thelma Kopp and Lucille Phlps; scout representative — Albert Carson; publication — Helen Yowanski; safety — Joe Corbett; publicity — Mary Echart.

Others present were Eva Altiers, Leona Stewart, Alice Criss, Goldie Perney, Mary Echart, Helen Yowanski and Frances Pasierb.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Gilmor of R. D, Belle Vernon, have returned home after vacationing in the state of California.

Alpha-Omega Class Meeting Held Tuesday

Tuesday evening the Alpha & Omega Class of Rehoboth Presbyterian Church met in the church social rooms for a regular monthly meeting.

Bennajeanne Gilmer was devotional leader, opening with the singing of " 'Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus" and "I Love to Tell the Story".

Scripture verses were taken from 1st chapter of Proverbs.

In unison the group repeated The Lord's Prayer.

The topic chosen by the leader was "Young Russians Asking Questions."

The business meeting was in charge of the President Bennajeanne Gilmer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Cecilia Kunkle, secretary. Esther Leeper gave a detailed treasurer's report.

The class approved a project displayed by Frances Colvin. It will be prepared by the ways and means committee for the next month. Each member is requested to participate.

A thank you card was received from Audrey Rankin. A get-well card was signed by members present and sent to Mrs. Joseph Rousseau, a patient at Ohio Valley General Hospital, Wheeling, W. Va.

Lunch was served by hostesses Mildred Mori and Frances Colvin.

Other members present were Louetta Hayden, Margaret Piersol, Sarah Trickett, Grace Lynn, Gertrude Wunderlich, Florence Finley.

Women's Club of Fellsburg Holds Recent Meeting

A telephone committee meeting of the Fellsburg Women's Club was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Brown. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Martha Phythyon.

The group is planning to include all the telephone numbers of members which will be compiled for publication next month. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Clarence Brown, chairman, Mrs. Robert Naylor, Mrs. Andrew Petronko, Mrs. Delbert Boyd, Mrs. Ralph Knight, Mrs. Robert Ammon, Mrs. Robert Hughes, Mrs. Wallace Kotouch, Mrs. James Leeper and Mrs. William Stoneman.

Baby for Snyders

AM2 and Mrs. Wayne Snyder are the parents of a son born Tuesday at 7:06 p. m. The baby weighed seven pounds and two ounces and has been named Wayne Douglas. The mother is the former Kathie Hawk, of Belle Vernon. The father, a Webster native, is stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Army Sergeant Wants His Son To Be Citizen

PARIS (UP) — S. Sgt. William Lewis of Englewood, N.J., appealed for help today in his fight to pass his American citizenship on to his 4-year-old son, a boy without a country.

Anthony Lewis was born last April 9 at the American Hospital here under U.S. military care. His mother Patricia Ann, 23, is British.

Under British law, the child is not British because he was born outside the Commonwealth and his father is American.

He is not French because both his parents are foreign nationals.

Lewis himself was born abroad. His father was American and his mother was British. Even though Lewis is an American by birth, he has not spent 10 years of his life in the United States, a requirement that must be fulfilled by a parent, under these circumstances to give automatic citizenship to an offspring.

Lewis, an eight-year veteran of the Air Force, has appealed to many U.S. officials for help in obtaining American citizenship for his son, but without result.

Despite the failures, Lewis has refused to give up the struggle.

"I can't give up because the whole thing just doesn't make sense to me," he said. "I simply can't believe there's no way for me to pass on my American citizenship to my son."

Accuse Physician Of Administering 'Truth Serum'

TULSA, Okla. (UP) — A prominent Tulsa physician, married and the father of two children, was accused today of giving "truth serum" to his women patients and then assaulting them after they had lost their will to resist.

County Attorney J. Howard Edmondson, calling the case the "most bizarre" he ever investigated, said he will search for more alleged victims of Dr. John Richard Rhine, 35.

Rhine, a general practitioner and graduate of the Oklahoma University Medical School, pleaded innocent when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Paul Walker Jr. Thursday. He was ordered held without bond pending preliminary hearing Aug. 6.

Edmondson said he had taken statements from six women allegedly assaulted by the doctor. But only one, a 20-year-old housewife, had signed a formal complaint.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Death Notice

KNAUS — Paul, 59, of Fayette Rd., Belle Vernon, R. D. 3, died Aug. 13, 1957, at 11:30 p. m. in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. Surviving are his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mrs. Edward (Florence) Petros, of Belle Vernon, R. D. and Mrs. Frank (Mildred) Mazzei, of Belle Vernon R. D. 3; one son, Robert, of Cicero, Ill.; two brothers, Frank, of Cleveland, Ohio and Stanko, of Yugoslavia; one sister, Mrs. Frank Supanick, of Cleveland and six grandchildren. Friends are being received at the Toner Funeral Home, Broad Ave., Belle Vernon, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m. Services will be held Saturday, Aug. 17, at 10 a. m. from the St. Sebastian R. C. Church in Belle Vernon. The Very Rev. Henry Hanse will officiate at requiem mass. Interment will be in Belle Vernon Cemetery. Harold R. Toner, funeral director.

2 Card of Thanks

SADLER — We wish to thank the many thoughtful friends and neighbors who extended us kindness in our recent bereavement, the death of Mary J. Sadler. Also Dr. Skurkay, Dr O'Leary, the nurses at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital, and all those who cared for her during her recent illness. The ministrations of Rev. Alex Black; floral tributes, cars loaned for the funeral, and all those who assisted in any way will be remembered with gratitude.
Family of Mary J. Sadler

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear brother, Orlando Stringhill, who died August 16, 1939.
Today is a day of remembrance
And many sad regrets;
A day we shall always remember
When the rest of the world forgets.
We sit here in the evening,
Often when we are alone,
Wishing, hoping and longing
If you could only come home.
Sadly missed by Joseph Stringhill and family

Toll Television Poses More Problems Than a Quiz Show

(Fifth and Final Dispatch)
By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — Toll TV poses more questions than all the quiz shows put together. It's up to you to start thinking about the answers.

Right now, this nation far outstrips the rest of the world in TV activity. Sponsored TV has been responsible.

We have 489 TV stations and they beam their waves into some 40 million homes. That's more than 80 per cent of the homes in the country.

Great Brtain has only six million TV homes and 17 stations. Russia has slightly over one million TV homes and 14 stations.

The champions of toll TV say our level of TV activity could be even higher. They point out there is room on the airwaves for more than 1500 stations, but that more than 1000 of these aren't being used. They say advertisers just can't support that many outlets. However, toll TV'ers fail to point out that many of these 1000 channels are in the ultra high frequency band (UHF) and that most TV sets aren't equipped to receive them.

Show Types Questioned

What's more, neutral observers agree that although toll TV may boost the quantity of TV shows you see (assuming that the empty channels on your set are used), about the kind of shows toll TV will feed its audience.

It is doubtful, point out observers, that the public will benefit by paying for regular season baseball games, World Series and fights when it gets a fairly steady diet of these now free.

Further, although pay TV champions talk often about Broadway plays, ballet, opera, educational programs and other high - toned fare, it is becoming increasingly obvious that the bulk of the toll TV diet will be movies.

Toll TV operators will be in business to make money. Money lies where the taste of the masses lie. And the masses like to watch movies. A Sindlinger research report stated recently that out of the 1,085.4 million hours devoted to TV viewing during one week in July, 400.3 mmllion hours were spent watching movies.

Commercial Pattern Threatened

Another danger lies in the threat to the present pattern of commercial broadcasting. The networks bring you comedy, variety, music, such as it is, on the cuff. But talent goes where the money is. There is always the chance that Comos, the Frank Sinatras would prefer the larger monetary rewards of toll TV. The loss of these regular programs also would seem to be of doubtful benefit to the public.

Finally, and most disturbing, there is the possibility that toll TV may not be as uncommercial as it claims. There is already quiet talk in some toll TV quarters of working advertisers into the act through the use of tokens or coupons inside the advertiser's product.

Thus, say, a cornflake sponsor might back a Western show for toll TV. Buy a box of cornflakes and you would get a special token to put in your toll TV attachment to see the show, or you might get a coupon which you would mail in to your toll TV operator for a refund or discount.

The Federal Communications Commission, presently sitting on the issue of toll TV, would seem to have the answers to most of these questions in its hands. It can regulate "over-the-air" TV, if it authorizes it. It has the power to do so.

But the FCC has no power to regulate toll TV if it operates over a wire into the home. And toll TV backers, growing impatient, are beginning to move in this direction.

Toll TV advocates say their very competition will up-grade the program fare you see on commercial TV. They say you'll see fewer and shorter commercials on your present TV channels because otherwise, the network shows will lose their audiences.

At this moment, two of the three pay TV firms are pressing the FCC for the right to conduct at least a test.

Those against toll TV say the FCC should not grant even a test —that once a toll TV firm invests its millions of dollars in a city, it will be difficult to dislodge it.

Both sides want entry into your living room now. It soon may be up to you to decide who you're going to let in.

Matching Minks for Mother and Daughter

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP) — This week in Manhattan:

One New York furrier came out with something for the mother and baby who have everything. It's a matching set of cardigan sweaters in pink cashmere with pink mink collar and cuffs. Pink buttons and pink chiffon lining complete the mother-daughter set.

Supposedly the idea originated with one order—a prominent woman now in a New York hospital with a new daughter wanted a set made.

Hypochondriacs take note. You can buy a jewelled pill box with built-in alarm clock which buzzes when it's time for the next pill. The box, made of palladium and sapphires, is one of the more unusual items exhibited at the American National Retail Jewelers' Convention next week

About ten million dollars in jewelry, watches and silverware will be collected under one roof. Also included: Collar pins to replace man's button-down shirt. The pins, in diamonds, rubies or sapphires, fasten to a shirt like a tie tack. Both the pill box and pins are the brainchild of Lucien Piccard, a prize-winning jewelry designer. Another concern will display silver holloware which it bills as non-tarnishable.

A few words to Mrs. R. M. Gillenwaters of Arcata, Calif., and to all other women raising a hue and cry about the short wear they get from nylon stockings.

The hosiery industry says if you have more runs, it's your fault. You insist on wearing dress-weight sheers for all occasions.

Recently this column reported that the National Hosiery Manufacturers Assn. hoped to give its industry a "shot in the leg" this fall with a host of new colors coordinated to milady's costume.

Sales have been booming, Association President William Williamson admitted.

Mrs. Gillenwaters promptly expressed her opinion why. In a letter, she said nylons once gave women at least 10 days wear, so women wore them instead of going bare-legged. "Now," she said, "if we get uptown and back without a run we feel lucky. I would buy many more (pairs) if the price was lower. ."

Williamson answered that when nylon stockings first came to market in 1940, they were made in 30 denier nylon — the only weight then available. Thirty denier was what the industry calls service weight or walking sheer...meant for heavy duty. But as the nylon was refined, manufacturers began using finer, or lighter weight yarn, and billing hosiery as 15 and even sheers. But they still make the 30 denier, for women who want it.

"Trouble is, they don't," said Williamson. "More than 80 per cent of all hosiery today is 15 denier and lighter. A woman can't expect this sheer a stocking to last through shopping, gardening, and even golfing."

"Hosiery is cheaper now than it was 10 years ago," he added. "It is one of the few consumer items which has gone down in price. no other segment of the clothing industry can make that statement

Freak Explosion Kills Electrician

PITTSBURGH (UP) — An electrician was killed Wednesday when a pocket of hydrogen gas exploded in a generator at the Duquesne Light Company's Reed Power Station on Brunot's Island.

Walter F. Perkins, 54, Pittsburgh, was pronounced dead of body burns on arrival at St. John's Hospital.

Company officials said the explosion occurred in a 60,000 kilowatt turbo generator which was being purged of hydrogen coolant so that workmen could enter it to make repairs. The gas apparently was ignited by a spark from a blower.

Nuclear Station

LONDON (UP)—Britain's fourth—and the world's largest—nuclear power station will be built at Trawsfynydd, North Wales, it was announced today. The station will have a capacity of 400,000 to 500,000 kilowatts and is scheduled for operation in 1962.

Teardrops Really Complex Solution

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

What could be more insignificant than a few teardrops? You'd be surprised.

Tears aren't merely drops of salt water; far from it. They are a complex solution with a high protein content and scientist can read them almost as easily as scanning the pages of a book.

Not only do tears tell something about who shed them, but it's usually possible to determine, to some extent, why they were shed.

Tears shed by adults are different than those of children, and scientists can easily tell which is which.

Moreover, they can also tell whether the tears were brought on by irritants, such as smog or onions, or whether they were caused by pain, anger, sorrow or joy. Chemically, the tears of these two categories are very different.

Tears are secreted by an almond-shaped gland which we call the lachrymal gland. Generally, the secretion from this gland passes out through the nose. When it is profuse, however it overflows the eyelids and we have tears.

Certain odors irritate the lachrymal gland, causing it to shed profusely, thus blinding the eye with tears.

Tears aren't a nuisance, as we sometimes are inclined to believe Just get something in your eye and you'll see how valuable they really are.

Automatically, tears will flood the eyes in an attempt to wash out the foreign body, whatever it may be. Very often this natural attempt by your own body to remedy the situation is all that is needed.

But this is just one way in which nature protects your eyes.

No less wonderful is the work of your eyelashes which serve as a dust stopper and your eyebrows which have the dual role of keeping out dust and preventing perspiration from dripping into your eyes.

Don't however, leave everything up to nature. Have a regular eyesight examination by a competent eye specialist at least every other year.

Noted Minister Defends Graham's Mass Conversions

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a recent signed article for the United Press, Dr. Harold Fey, editor of the Christian Century Magazine, questioned the value of mass religious conversions such as those recorded at Billy Graham's New York Crusade meetings. The following dispatch, by the editor of another well - known Protestant journal, Christianity Today, defends Graham's methods and the crusade's results.

By DR. CARL F. H. HENRY

The multitudes are loosed today from fixed standards and from a vital relationship to God. Whether won to Christ one-by-one or in throngs, they had better be enlisted swiftly, for unless they are brought to Christ, they will be abandoned to the service of false gods in our secular and materialistic age.

While the New Testament emphasizes the necessity of personal spiritual decision, it nowhere looks with skepticism and disdain upon attempts to evangelize the masses. At Pentecost 3000 converts were added to the church. From the beginning, therefore, the Christian recognized that mass conversions are not necessarily superficial.

The real issue is not whether conversions are mass - produced or custom-made, but whether they are God's work or man's.

Liberal Protestantism is critical of Dr. Billy Graham because of his success with New Testament evangelism in which it disbelieves, and not because there is anything intrinsically harmful about a bulk response to Christian evangelism.

What Graham Believes

Dr. Graham preaches the New Testament message that every man is a doomed sinner exposed to divine wrath, and that the sinner can be restored to fellowship with God only by the Holy Spirit's supernatural regeneration on condition of personal trust in the substitutionary atonement of Jesus Christ, the virgin-born, bodily-resurrected Son of God. The liberal theology's rejection of this New Testament message is the deepest ground of its criticism of Billy Graham.

In a recent article prepared for the United Press, Dr. Harold E. Fey, editor of the Christian Century, asserts that mass - produced conversions are ephemeral, and implies that one-by-one conversions through the local churches, without fixed doctrinal beliefs and without emotional upheaval, are superior. Dr. Fey contributes a shallow and disappointing estimate of the Madison Square Garden campaign.

Numbers of converts in Madison Square Garden have previously experienced the type of individual spiritual adjustment for which Dr. Fey pleads, and have found it spiritually inadequate and superficial due to the shallow theological dimension of the liberal Protestant theology.

The fact is that Dr. Graham is not opposed to a one-by-one winning of men and women to decision for Christ through the activities of the local church. Precisely the failure of the local churches to fulfill this task creates the urgency of mass evangelism. Multitudes of those who come to the Garden have never been reached by churchmen of Dr. Fey's persuasion with an allegedly superior technique of conversion or they would not be responding to Mr. Graham's ministry.

Converts Personally Counselled

Moreover, even in the Graham campaigns the appeal for public decision does not exclude personal counselling and commitment; every convert goes into the counselling rooms, and is encouraged in Christian growth through personal fellowship. If Dr. Graham were to lead hundreds of converts nightly into decision for Christ through personal counselling, rather than mass evangelism, the voice of liberal Protestantism would still be critical of his ministry because of its distrust of the New Testament revelation.

What is most disappointing about Dr. Fey's estimate is the bland way in which he assures us that "experience has shown repeatedly" that the person who accepts Christ "in such circumstances as those in Madison Square Garden is very likely to lose his way." We may be forgiven for inquiring what repeated experience of campaigns such as those in the Garden have come into Dr. Fey's experience? And on what basis the results of the Garden campaign can be prejudged before the campaign itself has ended, and the roll of converts completed? I fear that Dr. Fey has given us a report of what he hopes will be the fact, rather than a factual statement of the character of mass evangelism.

Braddock Woman Agrees to Surgery

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A 75-year-old Braddock, Pa., woman who was told she would die unless she allowed an amputation of her leg finally has heeded pleas of her family to permit the surgery.

Surgeons at Braddock General Hospital operated on Mrs. Mary Ptaszynski Wednesday, removing her leg just above the knee to halt the spread of gangrene which resulted from a diabetic condition.

Mrs. Ptaszynski refused for three weeks to allow the operation. Doctors described her condition as 'dying by inches" as the deadly infection crept up her leg. The woman finally yielded to the pleas of a daughter, Mrs. Sally Vinosky who talked to her mother for hours before the elderly woman gave in.
